Astronaut Tells Of Spectacular Walk in Space

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Edward White described today how he got the superb photographs of his space walk during his Gemini 4 flight with James McDivitt.

White narrated the film as it was shown during a press conference at the space center here.

Earlier, McDivitt described his unsuccessful rendezvous attempt with the Titan rocket booster which launched them into orbit June 3.

White said he and McDivitt agreed they were too pressed for time to try the space walk on the second orbit, as planned, and decided to postpone it one orbit.

"I tried to fly with the (space) gun right out the spacecraft," he said. "There was no push-off—the gun provided the impulse to leave the spacecraft."

He said the golden tether, with which he was attached to the spacecraft, caused him to propel himself slightly off course.

"The tether always tended to pivot me in the area I didn't want to be in," he added.

Finally, he said, he ran out of fuel for his space gun and had to use the tether to maneuver.

"The view from up there is just spectacular," White said. He told how he could see the whole state of Florida and islands in the Caribbean.

White said the walk in space was completely successful.

"Yes," he said, "a man can operate in space." But he added, "he needs a little more fuel."

Johnson had invited the two spacemen and their families to his Texas ranch for the weekend. Thursday the President offered instead to make his first visit to the space center, the "astronauts' home."

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the President would be there for the weekend.

CITY POLICE were making final preparations for tomorrow's bicycle safety check and registration.

The checks, from 8:30 a. m. to noon, will be conducted at S. Court St. School, Mound St. School, Atwater School and at Police Headquarters. . . . Certain safety standards must be met before registration tags will be granted. . . . The registration fee will be 50 cents. . . .

Chief Robert Temple indicated another check will be set up at another date for bike owners who cannot register tomorrow. . . . The later checks probably will be held at the police station and at Nicholas Drive School.

3 Ohio Military Bases Granted $13.3 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allocation of $13,366,000 for Ohio military installations is provided in the $2 billion military construction bill passed by the House Thursday.

The largest share of the money, $12,319,000, is allocated for Wright - Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

The Newark Air Force Station gets $181,000 for utilities, and Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, $565,000 for maintenance and production facilities.

Police said the cash register at the DX Oil Co. station and the wallets of both men had been emptied of cash. Chief William K. Stultz said each workman was shot at close range.

Police said they were searching for a 1947 gun-metal gray Chevrolet auto in connection with the killings, and described the driver as 19 to 21, wearing blue jeans and a white tee shirt. Each man had been shot once in the head.

LBJ Muffles Speculation About Economic Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has muffled speculation over a governmental split on his economic policy by giving assurances that there are "no cross-currents, divisions or conflicts" within the administration.

The President told reporters, after a meeting with Chairman William McC. Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and other top economic officials Thursday, that moderate but solid gains are foreseeable through 1965. "There is no reason for gloom or doom," he said.

This was an apparent reference to the stock market slump and public furor which followed Martin's June 1 speech at Columbia University.

That was the speech in which Martin spoke of "disquieting similarities between our present prosperity and the fabulous '20s," and emphasized the role of monetary policy — management of the money and credit supply — in preventing possible inflationary excesses.

Martin's resignation was demanded Thursday by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee. Patman charged that Martin had challenged Johnson's economic policy and was calling for what Patman described as a disastrous policy of tight money.

"This country cannot afford, even as prosperous as it is, a man at the helm of our monetary system who is so afraid of prosperity that he has to end it," Patman said on the House floor.

But Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, in an interview given before the White House meeting, helped Johnson to quash the talk of a policy split on the issue of tight money.

The projects, their sponsors, number of enrollees and costs: Montgomery County — board of education sponsoring 156 enrollees at a total cost of $161,200, federal government paying $142,400.

Brown County — Board of Education sponsoring 119 in-school enrollees in Georgetown at total cost of $70,200, federal government paying $62,100.

Toledo — Board of Education sponsoring 129 in-school and 47-out-of-school enrollees at West Union at total cost of $96,700, federal share $84,200.

Kenton — Board of Education sponsoring 62 in-school enrollees at a total cost of $39,600, federal share $34,300.

Ashland — Student Employment Opportunities Program sponsoring 43 in-school and 51 out-of-school enrollees at a total cost of $89,600, federal government paying $80,600.

2 Service Station Aides Fatally Shot

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — A gunman killed two service station employees Thursday night in a holdup.

Authorities identified the dead as Roy Waskom, 45, and Robert Mopps, 39, both of Richmond.

Police said the cash register at the DX Oil Co. station and the wallets of both men had been emptied of cash. Chief William K. Stultz said each workman was shot at close range.

U.S. Lists 47,000 Viet Communist Gls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official U.S. estimates of Communist hard-core military strength in South Viet Nam have been rising and now total about 12,000 higher than in January.

The latest public estimate of full-time Communist regulars in organized combat units stands at 47,000 men.

Last January U.S. officials estimated this hard core at between 29,000 and 35,000.

In late April, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara used the figures 38,000 to 46,000.

Knowledgeable sources said that the latest announced estimates still are below figures contained in classified reports.

One figure was said to be close to 64,000 of these well-trained, well-equipped Communist soldiers fighting with the Viet Cong.

A majority of the 47,000 hard-core Viet Cong are infiltrators from North Viet Nam — what Assistant Secretary of Defense John T. McNaughton Thursday called "the brains, the backbone and the cement of the movement as a whole."

These increases in the main force of Viet Cong have been reported despite fairly constant bombing of infiltration routes in North Viet Nam and Laos — routes through which the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam have been reinforced for six years.

U.S. officials have never claimed that the bombings have halted the infiltration. About the most they have said has been along the lines of McNamara's statement in late April that "we have impeded the progress of men and material from North Viet Nam."

This suggests that, in the absence of the bombings, the Viet Cong hard core would now be considerably greater than it is.

Hotel Blaze Is Fatal to At Least 2

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through the sprawling century-old Victoria Hotel today, taking at least 2 lives, injuring 15 persons and leaving 4 more missing.

Two bodies were recovered from the ruins and firemen began searching for other victims.

The three-story hotel is located near the business district of this central New Jersey community.

More than 100 permanent and transient guests escaped the burning building located across the street from the main Fire Department headquarters.

A telephone dispatcher at the fire house spotted flames shooting from the second floor of the building and turned in the first alarm at 2:36 a.m.

The blaze was brought under control at 5 a.m.

Police said 12 persons were injured, including a policeman who suffered deep smoke inhalation in an attempt to rescue a 93-year-old woman trapped in the building.

The officer, patrolman Robert Miller, was placed in an intensive-care unit at Muhlenberg Hospital and reported responding to treatment.

The woman, Frances Van Horn, was listed in good condition at the hospital.

Police said Miller collapsed after rescuing 10 or 12 persons inside the building.

The cause of the fire was not known immediately, but investigators believed it started on the second floor of the old frame building.

Dong Xoai Fight Comes to End

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The battle for Dong Xoai ended today with heavy casualties on both sides. The routed Viet Cong left district headquarters in ruins, strewn with bodies of men, women and children.

U.S. military authorities said the latest count of American casualties in the battle were 3 dead, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Eight of the missing were crewmen on two helicopters destroyed by enemy fire. A newsman who visited the town 60 miles north of Saigon said several American bodies were found in the ruins.

An 11-man U.S. Army special forces team and a nine-man U.S. Navy Seabee squad engaged in building an airstrip were at the district headquarters when the Viet Cong attacked Wednesday night.

The number of U.S. casualties in Viet Nam jumped again when a two-engine C123 transport ferrying ammunition and supplies crashed in flames in central Viet Nam, killing at least eight Americans.

A U.S. spokesman said a ground party recovered the bodies of two Air Force men and six Army men. He did not know how many had been aboard.

Military sources were uncertain of the cause of the crash. The three confirmed deaths at Dong Xoai brought the toll of American dead in Vietnamese combat since December 1961 to 409. The dead in the C123 crash would not be added to the combat toll unless enemy fire was determined.

Government and Viet Cong casualties were heavy in the fierce fighting that began at Dong Xoai early Thursday. About 150 civilians also were reported killed, including many women and children.

The government reported 280 casualties for its forces — 108 killed, 126 missing and 46 wounded. It claimed that 700 Communist guerrillas were killed — 300 in Dong Xoai and another 400 by U.S. and Vietnamese air strikes 3 to 4 miles north of the town.

The shooting ended at 6:30 a.m. when the Viet Cong pulled out of the area and disappeared into the jungle, the U.S. spokesman said.

Most of the wounded Americans were evacuated Thursday afternoon. Maj. Harvey E. Steward of Huntsville, Ala., led men of the 118th Aviation Company through heavy Viet Cong fire to evacuate the wounded, military officials said.

Short Skirts Lengthened By School

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Skirts don't stay short for long at Del Vallejo Junior High School.

Nancy B. Goforth, dean of girls, no longer just hems and haws about the length of skirts girls wear to school. The girls now do the hemming.

So far Mrs. Goforth has invited 35 girls into her office, given them needle and thread, and required them to sew a crepe-paper extension on their skirts to lower the hem to at least the top of the knee.

"The girls have been very cooperative about wearing the ruffles," said Mrs. Goforth. "At first they were somewhat shy but, unfortunately, they are beginning to like it."

"We have no set requirement for dress here," she said. "We just expect the children to dress so they don't distract from learning processes in the classroom. Long hair on boys and short skirts on girls do distract."

"I think the girls are trying to get attention one way or another, and they've hit upon short skirts as a good device because they are sanctioned by fashion experts," Mrs. Goforth said.

"One girl wore a skirt that stopped short four inches above the knees," she said. "When I first saw her I thought she was trying out for cheerleader."

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — When artist Adolph A. Garza decided upon a new style he really hit the nail on the head.

Hammering various nails into a board, he created a base relief portrait without using oils.

"It took me along time to locate nails with the right kind of heads," said Garza, 26. "Interesting nails are just hard to find."

It took him a week to pound out the portrait, using finishing nails for detail, roofing nails to fill areas of shadow, and aluminum nails to build up highlights of brilliance.

Garza said he got the idea when he noticed the setting sun glinting on rusty nails in a weatherbeaten board.

Fidel's Sister Reveals Rioting

Grab of Hemisphere Said Plan of Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sister of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said today Cubans high in the government are plotting to overthrow Castro's Communist regime.

Juanita Castro, 32, who left Cuba last June, said riots against the government have occurred in many parts of the island but news of them has been suppressed.

In testimony before a House subcommittee on un-American activities, Miss Castro told of her experiences in helping her brother reach power and her dissatisfaction with the revolution after the Communists took over.

She said her brother has built "an incredible repressive machine."

"The vast majority of Cuban people are against the Castro regime," she continued. "I don't think they will be able to stand much longer the nightmare of terror they have been living through the past few years."

Miss Castro, who said she was close to the revolution's leaders until the time she left, said "there are Cubans in high places in government who are plotting against it and who stay on to accomplish this."

At the outset of her testimony, Miss Castro read a prepared statement in which she said the Communist plan to take over this entire hemisphere and look on timid liberals and pacifists as their best allies.

Miss Castro said Communist leaders—and she included her brother, Fidel — "wish nothing better than to be confronted by irresolute and timid adherents of democracy, liberals and pacifists."

Military Needs 1,085 Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective Service headquarters said today it appears likely that induction orders will be issued to all available physicians completing their internships about July 1.

A spokesman said the orders are necessary to fill a draft call issued last January by the Defense Department.

The Defense Department call for doctors was issued last Jan. 7, originally asking for 851. The Selective Service spokesman said the request was increased Jan. 28 to 950 and last week to 1,085.

Rhodes Ready To Spend $5 Million To Win Ravenna A-Lab Argument

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes said today the state would pay $5 million to buy additional land for a $280 million atom smasher if the Ravenna arsenal is not available.

Any such land still would be in the Ravenna area, he said.

Ohio is one of several states seeking the atom smasher.

The governor, in a statement, declared that "Ohio will be totally prepared" to present a convincing case to the Atomic Energy Commission at a hearing in Washington next Tuesday.

His statement came as a search was being made for a compromise to gather unified support for putting the federal atom smasher at Ravenna—and against strong bids of southern Ohio leaders to put the project at Piketon.

The governor said the state's pledge of $5 million is for acquisition of additional property adjacent to the Ravenna site, if it is needed.

A dispute over possible Ohio sites erupted Thursday after the defense department said the Ravenna site was not available for the project. A drive for putting the project in the Portsmouth area moved to Washington, meanwhile, with its backers urging consideration of their site.

State officials insist that the Ravenna site is available and that the Portsmouth area location—at Piketon in Pike County—does not meet requirements of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Revealing the compromise plan, Development Director Fred P. Neuenschwander said arrangements are being made for a meeting "real fast" of state officials and members of the Ohio congressional delegation to discuss the possibility of obtaining another federal installation for Piketon.

He said Piketon does not have enough level land to handle the three-mile-long and two-mile accelerator, that it is too far from a jet airport and does not have sufficient technical manpower available.

Neuenschwander also contradicted a statement by Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, that the advantages of the Southern Ohio site outweigh other areas in Ohio because of its high unemployment figures and because it is in the Appalachia area earmarked for aid.

Actually, said Neuenschwander, the unemployment and poverty situation works against the Pike County area rather than for it.

One of the requirements of an area bidding for the atom smasher, he said, is that there

Young Banker Clobbers Thug

One Wild Shot Fired in Hassle

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (AP) — A quick young banker soundly whipped a husky, gun-waving exconvict Thursday during an attempt to rob Grand Saline's First National Bank. One wild shot was fired.

"When I heard the gun drop to the floor," said W. L. Garland III, "I was able to hit him. I hit him several times. I really got in one good one. It took the hide off his nose."

It also put William Pippin, 33, whose police record dates to 1955 in Rawlins, Wyo., back behind bars.

Garland, 28, held Pippin until police arrived at this East Texas salt mining town's only bank, and the downcast gunman said: "Well, fellows, I'm sorry — but it's all over now."

With drawn pistol, Pippin shoved past Garland, a vice president of the bank, at a side door after closing time.

Also present were W. L. Garland Jr., president of the bank and father of the young executive; four women employees and three tellers. Directors of the bank were due to meet shortly.

"I don't see how the shot missed all of us," said the elder Garland.

His son had answered a knock and cracked the door to hear Pippin inquire if the bank held a telegraphed money order for him. The younger Garland turned to relay the question to a teller and the intruder crowded inside.

"That gun looked like it might weigh 25 pounds," the vice president related. "But I caught his gun arm, we wrestled around and the gun went off."

As they struggled for the weapon, a man named by officers as an accomplice of Pippin fled in a white station wagon. He was arrested later near Dallas, where Sheriff Bill Decker identified him as Richard Rusk, 24, a parolee.

This suggests that, in the absence of the bombings, the Viet Cong hard core would now be considerably greater than it is.

Hotel Blaze Is Fatal to At Least 2

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through the sprawling century-old Victoria Hotel today, taking at least 2 lives, injuring 15 persons and leaving 4 more missing.

Two bodies were recovered from the ruins and firemen began searching for other victims. The three-story hotel is located near the business district of this central New Jersey community.

More than 100 permanent and transient guests escaped the burning building located across the street from the main Fire Department headquarters.

A telephone dispatcher at the fire house spotted flames shooting from the second floor of the building and turned in the first alarm at 2:36 a.m. The blaze was brought under control at 5 a.m.

Police said 12 persons were injured, including a policeman who suffered deep smoke inhalation in an attempt to rescue a 93-year-old woman trapped in the building.

The officer, patrolman Robert Miller, was placed in an intensive-care unit at Muhlberg Hospital and reported responding to treatment.

The woman, Frances Van Horn, was listed in good condition at the hospital.

Police said Miller collapsed after rescuing 10 or 12 persons inside the building.

The cause of the fire was not known immediately, but investigators believed it started on the second floor of the old frame building.

Dong Xoai Fight Comes to End

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The battle for Dong Xoai ended today with heavy casualties on both sides. The routed Viet Cong left district headquarters in ruins, strewn with bodies of men, women and children.

U.S. military authorities said the latest count of American casualties in the battle were 3 dead, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Eight of the missing were crewmen on two helicopters destroyed by enemy fire. A newsman who visited the town 60 miles north of Saigon said several American bodies were found in the ruins.

The shooting ended at 6:30 a.m. when the Viet Cong pulled out of the area and disappeared into the jungle, the U.S. spokesman said.

Most of the wounded Americans were evacuated Thursday afternoon. Maj. Harvey E. Steward of Huntsville, Ala., led men of the 118th Aviation Company through heavy Viet Cong fire to evacuate the wounded, military officials said.

Short Skirts Lengthened By School

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Skirts don't stay short for long at Del Vallejo Junior High School.

Nancy B. Goforth, dean of girls, no longer just hems and haws about the length of skirts girls wear to school. The girls now do the hemming.

So far Mrs. Goforth has invited 35 girls into her office, given them needle and thread, and required them to sew a crepe-paper extension on their skirts to lower the hem to at least the top of the knee.

"The girls have been very cooperative about wearing the ruffles," said Mrs. Goforth. "At first they were somewhat shy but, unfortunately, they are beginning to like it."

"We have no set requirement for dress here," she said. "We just expect the children to dress so they don't distract from learning processes in the classroom. Long hair on boys and short skirts on girls do distract."

"I think the girls are trying to get attention one way or another, and they've hit upon short skirts as a good device because they are sanctioned by fashion experts," Mrs. Goforth said.

"One girl wore a skirt that stopped short four inches above the knees," she said. "When I first saw her I thought she was trying out for cheerleader."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective Service headquarters said today it appears likely that induction orders will be issued to all available physicians completing their internships about July 1.

A spokesman said the orders are necessary to fill a draft call issued last January by the Defense Department.

The Defense Department call for doctors was issued last Jan. 7, originally asking for 851. The Selective Service spokesman said the request was increased Jan. 28 to 950 and last week to 1,085.

Fidel's Sister Reveals Rioting

Grab of Hemisphere Said Plan of Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sister of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said today Cubans high in the government are plotting to overthrow Castro's Communist regime.

Juanita Castro, 32, who left Cuba last June, said riots against the government have occurred in many parts of the island but news of them has been suppressed.

In testimony before a House subcommittee on Un-American activities, Miss Castro told of her experiences in helping her brother reach power and her dissatisfaction with the revolution after the Communists took over.

She said her brother has built "an incredible repressive machine."

"The vast majority of Cuban people are against the Castro regime," she continued. "I don't think they will be able to stand much longer the nightmare of terror they have been living through the past few years."

Miss Castro, who said she was close to the revolution's leaders until the time she left, said "there are Cubans in high places in government who are plotting against it and who stay on to accomplish this."

At the outset of her testimony, Miss Castro read a prepared statement in which she said the Communist plan to take over this entire hemisphere and look on timid liberals and pacifists as their best allies.

Miss Castro said Communist leaders—and she included her brother, Fidel — "wish nothing better than to be confronted by irresolute and timid adherents of democracy, liberals and pacifists."

Rhodes Ready To Spend $5 Million To Win Ravenna A-Lab Argument

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes said today the state would pay $5 million to buy additional land for a $280 million atom smasher if the Ravenna arsenal is not available.

Any such land still would be in the Ravenna area, he said.

Ohio is one of several states seeking the atom smasher.

The governor, in a statement, declared that "Ohio will be totally prepared" to present a convincing case to the Atomic Energy Commission at a hearing in Washington next Tuesday.

His statement came as a search was being made for a compromise to gather united support for putting the federal atom smasher at Ravenna—and against strong bids of southern Ohio leaders to put the project at Piketon.

The governor said the state's pledge of $5 million is for acquisition of additional property adjacent to the Ravenna site, if it is needed.

A dispute over possible Ohio sites erupted Thursday after the defense department said the Ravenna site was not available for the project. A drive for putting the project in the Portsmouth area moved to Washington, meanwhile, with its backers urging consideration of their site.

State officials insist that the Ravenna site is available and that the Portsmouth area location—at Piketon in Pike County—does not meet requirements of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Revealing the compromise plan, Development Director Fred P. Neuenschwander said arrangements are being made for a meeting "real fast" of state officials and members of the Ohio congressional delegation to discuss the possibility of obtaining another federal installation for Piketon.

He said Piketon does not have enough level land to handle the three-mile-long and two-mile accelerator, that it is too far from a jet airport and does not have sufficient technical manpower available.

Neuenschwander also contradicted a statement by Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, that the advantages of the Southern Ohio site outweigh other areas in Ohio because of its high unemployment figures and because it is in the Appalachia area earmarked for aid.

Actually, said Neuenschwander, the unemployment and poverty situation works against the Pike County area rather than for it.

One of the requirements of an area bidding for the atom smasher, he said, is that there

Ghastly Wreck Made of Village

DONG XOAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — In the ghastly wreckage of this little jungle town, the bodies of some 150 civilians lie strewn among the military dead this morning. Many are women and children.

Much of what is left of the little community is in flames. Government troops are still fighting desperate small hand-to-hand engagements with the Viet Cong in the sprawling outskirts of the town.

All during the night the Viet Cong hurled probes at the government positions in the west end of the town.

Of some 300 government troops who landed as reinforcements early Thursday morning, only three are left. These three lone Vietnamese survivors staggered out of the jungle early this morning.

The rest, including three American advisers, are gone somewhere in the hell of Dong Xoai.

Two Americans also staggered out of the jungle, both wounded in the leg, clothed in rags and chattering incoherently in shock. They had been at the special forces camp a mile from Dong Xoai that was smashed in the initial attack. Somehow they survived in the jungle.

One of them, Lt. (j.g.) Frank Peterlin of Oglesby, Ill., had been in charge of a Navy Seabee detachment doing construction work at the camp.

He ran out of the jungle just as wounded Vietnamese were being loaded on an evacuation helicopter. The second man ran out shortly after. They embraced hysterically when they spotted one another.

The other Americans in the camp had not been so lucky. The exact casualty toll still is not known, but the charred and mangled bodies of several Americans were found in the awful debris this morning.

Vietnamese rangers who were flown in Thursday afternoon fought their way into a landing zone to rescue wounded, exhausted government troops making a last-ditch stand around a tank and an armored personnel carrier.

The troops abandoned the vehicles. During the night government planes destroyed at least one of them, preventing the Viet Cong from using its guns against the government troops.

Government planes during the night rained napalm and bombs on most of the town, leveling a small Catholic church, the former government headquarters and other enemy strong-points.

Civilian casualties were enormous. In addition to the 150 or so killed, hundreds were wounded.

The rangers found the bodies of eight government troops with their hands tied behind their backs with wire. All eight apparently had been used as human shields in one of the Viet Cong attacks.

Contract Let For Ashville Post Office

A Columbus firm has received the contract to build the new post office at Ashville in Pickaway County, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski says.

Gronouski announced through the regional post office here that the contract was awarded to American General Corp., which will retain ownership of the building and lease it to the department for $4,900 a year.

The Ashville post office will be located at 1 East Main St., and is to be completed by Dec. 10. It will have an interior area of 1,787 square feet and 8,217 square feet of parking and loading space.

Stock Mart Snaps Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market snapped back today from four steep daily losses. Trading was fairly active early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.36 at 880.85.

The market showed signs of firmness from the opening and the upward trend was established within the first half-hour. The list reached a peak in late morning then traders skimmed some of the profits.

To analysts it looked like just another technical move, with some of the price gains attributed to preweekend short covering. This is a kind of profit taking by short sellers, those who have sold borrowed stock with the intention of replacing it with stock bought at a lower price.

The trend was generally higher among steels, motors, rails, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, drugs and building materials. Chemicals and airlines were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.5 at 320.7 with industrials up 2.7, rails up .6 and utilities up .5.

Much of what is left of the little community is in flames. Government troops are still fighting desperate small hand-to-hand engagements with the Viet Cong in the sprawling outskirts of the town.

All during the night the Viet Cong hurled probes at the government positions in the west end of the town.

Of some 300 government troops who landed as reinforcements early Thursday morning, only three are left. These three lone Vietnamese survivors staggered out of the jungle early this morning.

The rest, including three American advisers, are gone somewhere in the hell of Dong Xoai.

Two Americans also staggered out of the jungle, both wounded in the leg, clothed in rags and chattering incoherently in shock. They had been at the special forces camp a mile from Dong Xoai that was smashed in the initial attack. Somehow they survived in the jungle.

One of them, Lt. (j.g.) Frank Peterlin of Oglesby, Ill., had been in charge of a Navy Seabee detachment doing construction work at the camp.

He ran out of the jungle just as wounded Vietnamese were being loaded on an evacuation helicopter. The second man ran out shortly after. They embraced hysterically when they spotted one another.

The other Americans in the camp had not been so lucky. The exact casualty toll still is not known, but the charred and mangled bodies of several Americans were found in the awful debris this morning.

Vietnamese rangers who were flown in Thursday afternoon fought their way into a landing zone to rescue wounded, exhausted government troops making a last-ditch stand around a tank and an armored personnel carrier.

The troops abandoned the vehicles. During the night government planes destroyed at least one of them, preventing the Viet Cong from using its guns against the government troops.

Government planes during the night rained napalm and bombs on most of the town, leveling a small Catholic church, the former government headquarters and other enemy strong-points.

Civilian casualties were enormous. In addition to the 150 or so killed, hundreds were wounded.

The rangers found the bodies of eight government troops with their hands tied behind their backs with wire. All eight apparently had been used as human shields in one of the Viet Cong attacks.

Contract Let For Ashville Post Office

A Columbus firm has received the contract to build the new post office at Ashville in Pickaway County, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski says.

Gronouski announced through the regional post office here that the contract was awarded to American General Corp., which will retain ownership of the building and lease it to the department for $4,900 a year.

The Ashville post office will be located at 1 East Main St., and is to be completed by Dec. 10. It will have an interior area of 1,787 square feet and 8,217 square feet of parking and loading space.

Stock Mart Snaps Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market snapped back today from four steep daily losses. Trading was fairly active early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.36 at 880.85.

The market showed signs of firmness from the opening and the upward trend was established within the first half-hour. The list reached a peak in late morning then traders skimmed some of the profits.

To analysts it looked like just another technical move, with some of the price gains attributed to preweekend short covering. This is a kind of profit taking by short sellers, those who have sold borrowed stock with the intention of replacing it with stock bought at a lower price.

The trend was generally higher among steels, motors, rails, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, drugs and building materials. Chemicals and airlines were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.5 at 320.7 with industrials up 2.7, rails up .6 and utilities up .5.

completed in conjunction with the State Highway Department. Pickaway's share of the cost has been set at $16,000.

Specifications, as submitted by the State Highway Department, call for removal of the existing structure. The job will include walkways and appropriate pavement for vehicular traffic.

There was no immediate indication of when the project will get under way.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the lawmakers authorized the installation of new floorcovering for the boys' dormitory at the County Children's Home. The bid, one of two submitted, was awarded to the Robert Dumm firm of Circleville. The cost was estimated at $462.50.

Also gaining Commission approval was the submission of two letters to the Pickaway County Budget Commission seeking transfer of money.

The requests ask that money in the bond retirement fund be transferred to the general fund and money from an unencumbered balance be switched to the auto license and gasoline tax fund.

The solons are scheduled to meet Monday morning with Everett Jacoby, state buildings official, for an inspection of the Heine property on E. Mount St. The Commission has been considering purchase of the site as a location for additional county offices.

Job Discrimination End Said Certain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the federal government is pledged to put an end to job discrimination.

"We'll walk that extra mile to achieve voluntary compliance," Humphrey told more than 800 business leaders at the Northwest Regional Plans for Progress Conference Thursday night.

"But let everyone be assured of one thing: We intend for these standards to be observed and we intend to expand the opportunities for individuals in this country."

Humphrey said strides have been made and cited statistics from 100 companies. He said 27.9 per cent of the total in-

"I want to make a humanitarian appeal to save my people and the other endangered nations," Miss Castro said. "Communist imperialism and its instrument in the Americas, Fidel Castro, are planning to take over this entire hemisphere. This is no secret."

"Firm and decisive action on the part of the Organization of American States is necessary also on the part of the leaders—as President Johnson has done—not only of the leaders but of the people—as the Dominicans have done, as the Cubans will do—as shall all of us men and women who love freedom, peace and social improvement."

"All of us, united, must act with swiftness. The OAS must not hesitate. While they hold discussions, the Communist minorities take over still more popular movements. They must discuss and approve in advance, whatever action must be taken to support the people and prevent the Communist minorities from thwarting their hopes and enslaving them."

Astronaut . . .

Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "The gracious offer of the President overwhelmed the astronauts and their wives. They readily accepted so the honors could be shared with the people who made the flight possible."

A White House spokesman said McDivitt and White welcomed the change so they could spend more time with their families.

The astronauts returned to Houston Thursday, and White said their homecoming was an event second only to the successful splashdown Monday. The heroes were met with hugs and kisses from their wives and children at Ellington Air Force Base, then had a brief lunch and private chat at their homes before continuing the debriefing of their four-day journey into space.

Details of Johnson's visit, and whether he will present the special medals or awards to the space twins are not known. The President told the two last Monday he had a "little something" for them.

Afterwards, Johnson is expected to tour the center, including Mission Control from where the Gemini 4 space flight was controlled and monitored.

Officials revealed Thursday that a third sighting of a mysterious object in space was made during a pass over China. McDivitt had reported seeing an object over Hawaii and another over eastern Asia.

A recheck of the 1,400 frames of film taken by McDivitt turned up five of a glob of light with a white tail and a triangular glow above it.

The second object has not been identified. Photographs taken of it were not recognizable, a NASA official said. Mention of the third object came during the afternoon debriefing of the two Air Force majors.

Islands in Danger; Rabbits Given Blame

MELBOURNE (AP) — Several islands off Australia's southern coast are in danger of being washed away and rabbits are to blame, the director of the Australian Foreign Ministry's Antarctic division said today.

Dr. Philip Law said rabbits have eaten all the vegetation on Citadel, Rabbit and Macquarie islands, and the islands now are eroding rapidly.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is switch time in American history when the President and the Supreme Court wear the big shoulders and the usually cantankerous Congress trots meekly behind President Johnson.

His November landslide victory, carrying his Democrats into crushing control of Congress, got him off to a good start unmatched since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first term.

Technician Johnson has a cajoled and cornered members of House and Senate into shouting "amen" to his programs. But this is an unnatural condition for President and Congress. The natural condition is tooth and claw.

This Supreme Court under Chief Justice Earl Warren, strongest and most alive since the first 35 years of the 19th century when the captain was Chief Justice John Marshall, plunges in where Congress fears to tread.

In sweeping thrusts, one after the other, it has given motion to civil rights, new meaning to separation of church and state with its bans on compulsory school prayers, new protections to individuals, new political equality for voters with its rulings on reapportionment.

In the truest sense it is a contemporary tribunal, in contrast with the court which barricaded Roosevelt's first four years.

He had to watch those unforgettable nine old men of the early 1930s, whose reasoning in most cases had not advanced beyond the last quarter of the 19th century, embalm his New Deal legislation so necessary in a new and tragic era.

In desperation he called for court-packing and failed, but in one sense only. His purpose was achieved while his plan was ignored.

Congress rebuffed him, left the court unchanged. But the justices, rendered self-conscious by attack, began peering at last into the 20th century and, starting in 1937, approving his programs.

It was in Roosevelt's first four years that Congress was even more submissive than it has been with Johnson. Confronted with depression disaster, it practically abdicated and gave Roosevelt a blank check.

Gradually after 1937, when the country began to regain some self-assurance, Roosevelt's relations with Congress soured until the war. But all his troubles weren't a patch on President Truman's.

From 1947 until 1949 Truman had to cope with what he called the "80th do-nothing" Republican Congress. Two Republicans in particular, Sens. Robert A. Taft and Joseph R. McCarthy, made Truman's life and administration an obstacle race.

This was while he tried to steer the country, and that part of the world which depended upon it, into the last half of the 20th century. As a climax, plastered with criticism, he had to fight the Korean War.

President Eisenhower had it better but for reasons he didn't and couldn't control, his Republicans had a majority in Congress in only the first two of his eight years. After that the Democrats ran Congress.

They weren't submissive they were cooperative up to a point, particularly in the Senate bossed by Lyndon B. Johnson. Therefore Eisenhower, because of this Democratic control, was never able to run Congress like a big daddy.

Congress pretty much ran with him. And no wonder. For one thing, it would have been bad politics to claw or mangle a popular hero like Eisenhower.

President Kennedy had no such luck. He won the presidency with a Democratic Congress which barely outnumbered the Republicans. He was endlessly frustrated. But then he never fought for his programs as Johnson does.

Now there is the era of good feelings, even if temporary.

Mr. and Mrs. Festus Hill were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rowlands and family of New Holland.

Bloody Battle ...

The Viet Cong held parts of Dong Xoai through the night and hammered at government positions.

Government planes panted the town with napalm and bombs, leveling a small Catholic church, the former government headquarters and several enemy strongpoints.

A bold move by Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of the 3rd Army Corps, broke the Communist offensive.

The original defenders of Dong Xoai were making a desperate stand when Vien ordered his 52nd Ranger Battalion airlifted into the battle area. Vien's men retook the district headquarters compound and captured a large stock of Viet Cong weapons. The Rangers lost at least 30 dead and 15 wounded.

The first reinforcements — a battalion of 300 infantrymen — were flown into the Dong Xoai area Thursday morning after the Viet Cong overran the town and smashed a Special Forces camp a mile away.

The battalion of reinforcements was attacked soon after landing. Today only three survivors could be found. The rest were dead or missing, including three American advisers.

A battalion of paratroopers was flown into Dong Xoai by helicopter early today. Their arrival turned the tide for the government forces.

Most of the American casualties occurred in the Special Forces camp, where 20 or 21 American advisers were stationed training the Vietnamese.

The American toll also included the crews of two helicopters lost during the fighting Thursday. It was believed at least four Americans were aboard each.

Thousands of refugee tribesmen poured into Dong Xoai from the jungle today, presumably to escape the air attacks on the Viet Cong. But government officers feared the Viet Cong might try to use them as a human shield between the Communists and the government troops.

It was also suspected that Viet Cong infiltrators might be among the tribesmen.

While the infantry and the paratroopers battled at Dong Xoai, about 1,500 Vietnamese marines took up positions around Saigon, apparently on guard against anti-government riots while military leaders discussed the political controversy between Premier Phan Huy Quat and Phan Khac Suu, chief of state.

A number of the armed forces' leaders began meeting in Saigon Thursday to discuss the political trouble. Quat had appealed to them to mediate the dispute, which he said was threatening his government.

Ground was broken in Saigon today for a new U.S. Embassy. The old building was damaged last March when a terrorist bomb killed two Americans and 10 Vietnamese and injured many persons, including Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson.

The embassy staff is using the old building until its new quarters are ready about a mile away.

U.S. Assistant Secretary of Defense John T. McNaughton told newsmen in Washington that it is estimated about 47,000 full-time Communist regulars are now fighting in organized combat units in South Viet Nam.

Five months ago U.S. officials estimated this hard core at between 29,000 and 35,000. In late April, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara raised the figures to between 38,000 and 46,000.

McNaughton said most of the 47,000 are infiltrators from North Viet Nam. He described them as "the brains, the backbone and the cement of the whole movement."

The United States has boosted its forces in Viet Nam from about 23,000 at the end of 1964 to 54,000 now. There are indications the number will rise in the months ahead.

Another industry first

Just as you'd expect from the world's leading laundry appliance manufacturer, Whirlpool is setting another industry standard by offering this new factory-backed, nationwide two-year warranty. It's dramatic evidence of the long-life performance and dependability record of RCA WHIRLPOOL laundry appliances. And it's all possible because of the rugged, designed-to-take-it construction used in every automatic washer, with 1/2 hp. motors . . . heavy-duty sealed gear cases; in every dryer and in every wringer washer. This warranty is exclusively yours with any RCA WHIRLPOOL laundry appliance you buy from now on.

2-year parts warranty

(5-year warranty on the automatic washer sealed gear case)

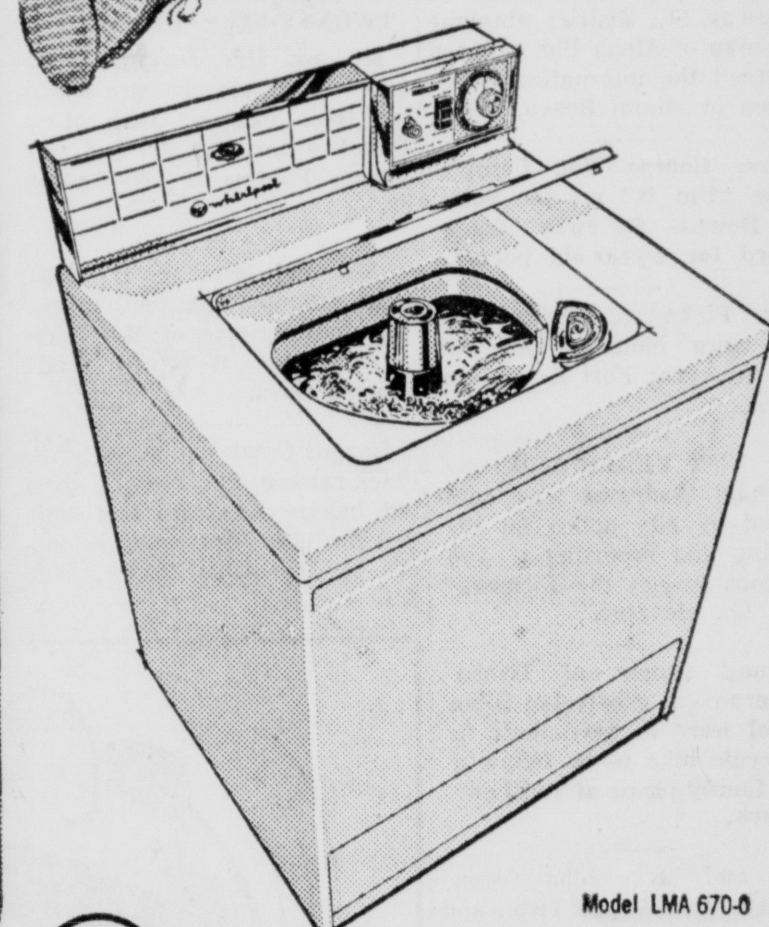

Whirlpool Corporation warrants to the original retail purchaser of an RCA WHIRLPOOL Automatic Washer, Wringer Washer, or Clothes Dryer (herein called "Appliance") that it will, free of charge, repair or exchange, at its option, the following parts returned to Whirlpool within the periods specified below by a service organization authorized by Whirlpool or its distributor and found by Whirlpool to be defective in material or workmanship: (a) for a period of two years after purchase, all Whirlpool-approved or FSP* parts comprising the Appliance; and (b) for a period of three years following that two year period, all Whirlpool-approved or FSP parts comprising the gear case assembly in the Automatic Washer.

For a period of one year after purchase of the Appliance, charges for service or other costs arising out of this Warranty will be assumed by the selling dealer or his distributor free of charge to the purchaser.

This Warranty is not transferable by the purchaser and shall be voided: when any part other than a Whirlpool-approved or FSP part is incorporated in the Appliance; if the Appliance is used for commercial purposes; if alterations not approved by Whirlpool are made in the Appliance; if the serial number plate is altered or removed; or, if the repair or exchange of an in-warranty part is made by other than an authorized service organization. Further, this Warranty does not apply: if an Appliance has been subjected to accident, misuse, damage caused by flood, fire or act of God or has been used on circuits, voltages or frequencies other than indicated on the serial number plate of the Appliance; or to electric bulbs, porcelain enamel or internal or external finish of the Appliance. Whirlpool Corporation's warranty obligations are limited to those set forth herein and no other obligations, expressed or implied, are assumed by Whirlpool Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Trump of Circleville were Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter.

Bloody Battle...

The Viet Cong held parts of Dong Xoai through the night and hammered at government positions.

Government planes panted the town with napalm and bombs, leveling a small Catholic church, the former government headquarters and several enemy strongpoints.

A bold move by Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of the 3rd Army Corps, broke the Communist offensive.

The original defenders of Dong Xoai were making a desperate stand when Vien ordered his 52nd Ranger Battalion airlifted into the battle area. Vien's men retook the district headquarters compound and captured a large stock of Viet Cong weapons. The rangers lost at least 30 dead and 150 wounded.

The first reinforcements — a battalion of 300 infantrymen — were flown into the Dong Xoai area Thursday morning after the Viet Cong overran the town and smashed a Special Forces camp a mile away.

The battalion of reinforcements was attacked soon after landing. Today only three survivors could be found. The rest were dead or missing, including three American advisers.

A battalion of paratroopers was flown into Dong Xoai by helicopter early today. Their arrival turned the tide for the government forces.

Most of the American casualties occurred in the Special Forces camp, where 20 or 21 American advisers were stationed training the Vietnamese. The American toll also included the crews of two helicopters lost during the fighting Thursday. It was believed at least four Americans were aboard each.

Thousands of refugee tribesmen poured into Dong Xoai from the jungle today, presumably to escape the air attacks on the Viet Cong. But government officers feared the Viet Cong might try to use them as a human shield between the Communists and the government troops.

It was also suspected that Viet Cong infiltrators might be among the tribesmen.

While the infantry and the paratroopers battled at Dong Xoai, about 1,500 Vietnamese marines took up positions around Saigon, apparently on guard against anti-government riots while military leaders discussed the political controversy between Premier Phan Huy Quat and Phan Khac Suu, chief of state.

A number of the armed forces' leaders began meeting in Saigon Thursday to discuss the political trouble. Quat had appealed to them to mediate the dispute, which he said was threatening his government.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The tumble of stock market averages from their May 14 peak has brought many issues to a level that makes their yields much more attractive to long-term investors.

Return on the investment is one reason for buying stocks. Another, and much dearer to most active traders, is the chance of capital gains from rising prices.

On the first score the market looks better today to the long-term investor. He was beginning to worry because at the peak prices the yields looked small. Corporate profits were rising but stock prices outstripped them.

On the second score, the sharp drop in stock prices Tuesday could make some issues look like bargains. But it wiped out a lot of paper profits for those who had bought with hopes that prices would keep climbing. And these disappointed ones are the loudest grumblers at the market's performance in most of the last four weeks.

The yield is what you get, or have a right to expect, in dividends in ratio to the market price you pay for a stock. In most instances dividends depend upon past and prospective earnings of the individual corporations. So would-be buyers watch closely the ratio of stock prices to current earnings as reported or estimated.

And that ratio is now much more attractive to investors than it was at times when exuberance was sending prices soaring.

For an example take the 30 industrial stocks used in the popular Dow-Jones industrial index. A year ago the index stood at 805. Per share earnings of the 30 stocks came to $42.60. The price index thus was 18.9 times earnings.

The index reached its peak of 939.62 May 14. Tuesday's break brought it down to 889.05, a 5.38 per cent drop. But estimated per share earnings of the 30 stocks is now $48.78. So Tuesday the industrial price average is 18.2 times earnings.

The stock market always has two kinds of buyers and sellers. The quiet and least-noticed one is the investor who expects a reasonable yield on the stock he buys (or is selling because the yield looks poor). He also hopes that prices may rise or at least not drop. But he prizes his dividend checks.

The second, the one more likely to affect the sharp day-to-day swings of the market, cares only incidentally for the yield or dividends. His eye is on making a killing by buying low and selling high. When he sells it is because he thinks the chances of that have gone glimmering.

The majority of stocks in America are held by the long-term investors. And to them yield is important. The small percentage of outstanding stocks that are traded day by day and change hands many times each year set the current price trends.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO Mrs. Kenneth R. Hannan, N. Pickaway St., district alumnae chairman of Alpha Phi, planned to attend the international convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Mrs. George Van Camp's horse "I'm It" set the Scioto Downs Raceway track record for 2-year-old pacers. Two Pickaway County residents were inducted into the U. S. Army at Fort Hayes, Columbus. TEN YEARS AGO Michael Andrews was commended by city police for discovering and reporting a broken corn bin at the Pickaway Grain Co. elevator. Young people of Trinity Lutheran - Presbyterian Bible School were to participate in a bicycle hike to be followed by a family picnic at Ted Lewis Park.	sey City, N. J. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Dunkle and son of Athens were spending their vacation with Mrs. Dunkle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Turney Pontius of near Thatcher. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Radcliff attended the tenth reunion in Delaware of Mr. Radcliff's Ohio Wesleyan graduating class. Hargus Creek put on one of its quick-raising acts after a short but heavy rainstorm and trapped the 1930 Ford coach belonging to Jay Allen Henry, Wellton Ave.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Insects are on the wing again. The stinging season is on for hornets, wasps, bees and yellow jackets.

In most instances, a painful swelling is the only aftermath of a sting. The redness, itching and heat usually disappear in 24 hours, unless severe allergic reactions have occurred at the same time.

The toxins that are injected by repeated stings can induce severe pain, and can produce most unpleasant symptoms.

Black hornets and wasps are among the insects that usually sting repeatedly, and, therefore, produce more severe symptoms. But even the honey bee, who usually stings just once, can cause these distressing reactions.

The venom injected by bees and wasps are very potent and can be almost as toxic as the bite of a venomous snake.

Bees are known to protect themselves while gathering honey, especially on bright, warm days. Children should be taught to avoid disturbing them or threatening the nests of any insects. Children should not be allowed to run barefoot through the blossoming clover where bees and wasps seem to flourish.

Insects seem to be attracted to bright colored clothing and to the overpowering scent of perfume.

A careful inspection of the home and the play yard for insect nests is an excellent investment for safety.

What is the immediate treatment for an insect sting?

The stinger should be removed gently by scraping the skin surface, or with the use of tweezers. The red, painful area of the bite should be covered with applications of warm epsom salts. This will reduce the swelling and itching. Alcohol will also give welcome relief.

If a person who is known to be allergic should develop a hive after a sting an antihistamine should be given.

Anyone who has ever been stung by a bee or a wasp tends to become more sensitive and react more severely to the next bite. Sometimes the reaction in these cases is severe enough to require immediate consultation with a doctor or treatment in a hospital emergency room.

If anyone is known to react so severely to a sting they should be taught by their physician how to use epinephrine by injection. There are other life-saving drugs which can be used by inhalation or by mouth if a profound reaction follows an insect bite.

There are now also available methods by which a highly sensitive person can be desensitized to the venom of insects. If anyone lives in a community where insects flourish, and if one is known to be highly allergic to their venom, desensitization is recommended.

On reading of the President's request that Congress put a curb on unsightly billboards and auto junkyards, the office Republican loudly proclaims that this is one time he agrees with that Democrat in the White House.

In considering LBJ's desire that America be made more beautiful, it's our guess that Congress will do the handsome thing.

This could result in the American Dream coming true — a nation as lovely to look at as it is delightful to live in.

Meanwhile, we've just learned that the abacus, the world's first adding "machine," came into use in China about 500 B.C. Well, that figures — to some 2,500 years ago.

The average book contains a mile of type, a printing house reveals. And, judging by some of the tomes that we recently tried to struggle through, it often is strictly uphill.

Hidden Johnson History

Recently I wrote a column about Rajmohan Gandhi, the grandson of India's revered liberator, which praised the young man for seeing virtue in Lyndon Johnson's military intervention to save Southeast Asia from Communism. In doing the column I made note of the fact that Rajmohan Gandhi was a follower of the western Moral Re-Armament movement. This, I said, posed something of a contradiction for — I am quoting the column — "the Moral Re-Armament movement was identified in the 1930's with pacifism."

This statement has resulted in a score of protests from members of Moral Re-Armament — and in pursuing the matter to see whether the request for a correction is justified I have come upon something that may be an important part of the hidden history of our times. Before going into that, however, let me first make my amends.

Whether Moral Re-Armament, an interfaith religious movement founded by Frank Buchman, was pacifistic or not, it was condemned in some quarters in the Thirties as such. To check my memory for writing the column in question, I looked up the history of Moral Re-Armament in the Encyclopedia Britannica. The Encyclopedia article did not mention pacifism, but it said the movement encountered criticism in the Thirties because of "alleged Nazi sympathies." This I took to be a mean way of interpreting the pacifistic charge, so I decided to stand on the less offensive phraseology.

Now, the Encyclopedia Britannica could be misled by hearsay, and this column could be misled too, in passing along an ancient bit of criticism. Since Moral Re-Armament offers some impressive testimony that it was never pacifistic, I am glad to apologize for giving renewed currency to what it re-sents as an old canard.

And now to the interesting matter. The late Peter Howard, who succeeded Frank Buchman as the world leader of Moral Re-Armament, was a friend and confidant of President Diem of South Vietnam. Apparently, Diem, like Mahatma Gandhi's grandson, had become converted to Moral Re-Armament ideas of an interfaith crusade to save the world from all varieties of materialism, Communism included. Said Peter Howard in a speech at the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, reported in the Moral Re-Armament magazine "Dare": "Diem wished to use films, literature and travelling teams of ideologically trained men . . . to saturate Vietnam with Moral Re-Armament ideas." But, so Howard recalled for his San Francisco listeners, Diem "was overruled by certain people in the United States State Department."

Diem was evidently regarded as a dreamer in addition to being stiff-necked. But whether the ideas of Moral Re-Armament have any validity for a southeast Asian country or not, it remains true that Diem, as Peter Howard put it at San Francisco, was "the only person so far who had the strength, the stubbornness, the will, to enforce stability on a country which is so terribly hard to govern."

In recalling the events that lead to the murder of Diem, Peter Howard made this unequivocal statement: "To the credit of President Johnson who is a man, whatever views you take of politics, with guts and foresight — he did his very best, as Vice President of this country, to stop the policy then being pursued by some elements in the State Department to get rid of Diem. He predicted the chaos and disintegration that might follow the annihilation of Vietnam's lost leader."

Where Peter Howard got this information about Lyndon Johnson's hidden history as Vice President I do not know. How-ard died recently in Peru, and he cannot be summoned to amplify his testimony. However, it checks with what is known about Lyndon Johnson's reactions to the Bay of Pigs and to the Cuban missile crises, in both of which his counsel was to use enough force to win a victory that would stick.

LBJ's present is apparently a continuation of his past — and for that the "liberals" will not forgive him.

Gotham Dems Scramble as Wagner Bows

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's decision not to seek a fourth term touched off a scramble for the Democratic mayoral nomination to-day and promised to have national political repercussions in both parties.

The decision Thursday, which the three-term mayor said was based on family considerations, could produce some political pressure on the national level for the selection and financing of a powerful Democratic opponent to Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay in the Nov. 2 election.

Lindsay, 43, a proven vote getter in this nation's largest city where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans by more than 3-to-1, has been mentioned as potential presidential material. A victory in the mayoral race would boost both him and the GOP. President Johnson reportedly is anxious to see him defeated.

A new name cropped up on the Democratic side shortly after Wagner made his announcement. In Washington, Harleyn Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., boosted Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, for the nomination. Roosevelt, 50, recently switched by President Johnson from under-secretary of commerce to chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said he had received telephone calls from public officials and "important Democrats." He declined to identify them.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who now appears on his way to uncontested control of the Democratic party in New York with the withdrawal of Wagner, said the fate of the party in the city depends "on how well we do in selecting a candidate."

Kennedy said Roosevelt is "one of a number of possible candidates." He declined to name any others.

A Democratic primary battle appeared almost certain with at least three factions fighting for control. They include Wagner's proteges; Kennedy's backers and elements of the reform movement.

The primary election will be held Sept. 14, and three or four rival slates could shape up by then.

On the Republican side, Wagner's withdrawal meant that campaign strategy likely would have to be re-evaluated.

Lindsay said: "He (Wagner) will always remain a great New Yorker and he will have the gratitude of the people of New York. But the people of New York also feel that New York needs a change. They feel that the complacent arteries of our city administration are badly in need of a transfusion.

"The target has never been Bob Wagner. My campaign will be a fusion campaign to give the city a new life."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Milwaukee Wagner's decision probably would lead to "a real donnybrook," but that Lindsay's chances, as a fusion candidate, have improved 25 per cent.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said, however, that he did not think Wagner's decision would have any major effect on Lindsay's campaign.

"Whoever comes in will be someone who is identified with the Democratic administration," said Rockefeller.

ADD VISOR—A new gimmick in aviation is this visor nose opening which Lockheed-Georgia proposes for USAF's C-5A, the world's biggest airplane. It sort of reminds one of a knight's helmet. Two lines of Georgia Army National Guard vehicles are emerging at the same time from this mockup at the Marietta, Ga., plant. Lockheed, Boeing and Douglas are competing for the contract to build the cargo carrier.

Editor's Spelling Lousy, But He Reports the News

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The spelling is bad, but the news is told and the paper sells. This is the story of 9-year-old Philip Lee's newsletter, which he publishes in suburban College Park when the mood strikes him.

His brother Eric, 6, is circulation manager. Philip reported in the newsletter that Eric enters the first grade in September and adds: "He is pretty smart. The Editor has taute him r" he knows."

Philip's mother, Mrs. George Lee, cuts his stencils for him, retaining his original spelling, and St. Mary's Episcopal Church provides a mimeograph machine. Philip's topics cover a wide range, from the neighborhood to Viet Nam.

For a nickel, you can read these items from Philip's latest edition:

"Sister Annunciata, a nun is sick and tird at St. Josephs Hospital. She had an opporation for very close veins. She is tird because she has been on her feet for 50 yrs. God bless her."

"Mrs. Grace Olds broke her foot and she is very unhappy about it."

Neuschwander said he has been assured by the Department of the Army that the necessary acreage at the Ravenna Arsenal will be made available if the state puts forth a united effort for it.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he and other members of a coordination committee who favor selection of the Ravenna site plan to meet Monday with Cyrus Vance, deputy secretary of defense, to "explore the situation."

The state will present its arguments for the Ravenna site at a Washington hearing next Tuesday, at which Gov. James A. Rhodes will appear personally.

The Atomic Energy Commission has set June 15 as the deadline for applications from over the country from groups seeking the electron volt accelerator for their areas.

State officials were criticized for their handling of the Ravenna location by Rep. Robert E. Sweeney, Democrat serving at-large for the state, during a luncheon in Washington Thursday for the Southern Ohio group promoting the Piketon site.

Sweeney said he was shocked to learn that the Defense Department had never given a commitment that the Ravenna site would be available. He said someone in Ohio "has been leading the people down a primrose path" in an obvious swipe at Rhodes.

He indicated that if the Defense Department doesn't release the Ravenna property by June 15, "Jim Rhodes should crawl in off the limb and go for the Pike County site."

Computer Goofs, Holds Wrong Man

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—A confused computer mistook sales manager Frank Thompson for an armed robbery suspect and he landed in jail.

Thompson had just paid a $12 speeding fine in a Cleveland Municipal Court when a policeman told him, "Somebody else wants to see you." The policeman had a paper reading, "Hold for Detective Tomsic."

The detective wasn't around and no one knew why he wanted Thompson. Thompson spent two hours in the jail bullpen before the detective showed up, took one look, and said, "He's not the guy."

Police then explained names of all traffic violators are fed into a computer to determine whether they are wanted on other charges. It turned out another Frank Thompson was wanted on an armed robbery charge.

The sales manager accepted the explanation but he is still puzzled about the computer.

"If it can make a mistake on Thompson," he said, "the jail could be full of Smiths and Joneses while police are sorting the good Smiths from the bad Smiths."

Gotham Dems Scramble as Wagner Bows

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's decision not to seek a fourth term touched off a scramble for the Democratic mayoral nomination to-day and promised to have national political repercussions in both parties.

The decision Thursday, which the three-term mayor said was based on family considerations, could produce some political pressure on the national level for the selection and financing of a powerful Democratic opponent to Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay in the Nov. 2 election.

Lindsay, 43, a proven vote getter in this nation's largest city where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans by more than 3-to-1, has been mentioned as potential presidential material. A victory in the mayoral race would boost both him and the GOP. President Johnson reportedly is anxious to see him defeated.

A new name cropped up on the Democratic side shortly after Wagner made his announcement. In Washington, Harlan Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., boosted Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, for the nomination. Roosevelt, 50, recently switched by President Johnson from under-secretary of commerce to chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said he had received telephone calls from public officials and "important Democrats." He declined to identify them.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who now appears on his way to uncontested control of the Democratic party in New York with the withdrawal of Wagner, said the fate of the party in the city depends "on how well we do in selecting a candidate."

Kennedy said Roosevelt is "one of a number of possible candidates." He declined to name any others.

A Democratic primary battle appeared almost certain with at least three factions fighting for control. They include Wagner's proteges; Kennedy's backers and elements of the reform movement.

The primary election will be held Sept. 14, and three or four rival slates could shape up by then.

On the Republican side, Wagner's withdrawal meant that campaign strategy likely would have to be re-evaluated.

Lindsay said: "He (Wagner) will always remain a great New Yorker and he will have the gratitude of the people of New York. But the people of our city also feel that New York needs a change. They feel that the complacent arteries of our city administration are badly in need of a transfusion.

"The target has never been Bob Wagner. My campaign will be a fusion campaign to give the city a new life."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Milwaukee Wagner's decision probably would lead to "a real donnybrook," but that Lindsay's chances, as a fusion candidate, have improved 25 per cent.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said, however, that he did not think Wagner's decision would have any major effect on Lindsay's campaign.

"Whoever comes in will be someone who is identified with the Democratic administration," said Rockefeller.

ADD VISOR—A new gimmick in aviation is this visor nose opening which Lockheed-Georgia proposes for USAF's C-5A, the world's biggest airplane. It sort of reminds one of a knight's helmet. Two lines of Georgia Army National Guard vehicles are emerging at the same time from this mockup at the Marietta, Ga., plant. Lockheed, Boeing and Douglas are competing for the contract to build the cargo carrier.

Editor's Spelling Lousy, But He Reports the News

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The spelling is bad, but the news is told and the paper sells. This is the story of 9-year-old Philip Lee's newsletter, which he publishes in suburban College Park when the modd strikes him.

His brother Eric, 6, is circulation manager. Philip reported in the newsletter that Eric enters the first grade in September and adds: "He is pretty smart. The Editor has taute him :)" he knows."

Philip's mother, Mrs. George Lee, cuts his initials for him, retaining his original spelling, and St. Mary's Episcopal Church provides a mimeograph machine. Philip's topics cover a wide range, from the neighborhood to Viet Nam.

For a nickel, you can read these items from Philip's latest edition:

"Sister Annunciata, a nun is sick and tird at St. Josephs Hospital. She had an oporation for very close veins. She is tird because she has been on her feet for 50 yrs. God bless her."

"Mrs. Grace Olds broke her foot and she is very unhappy about it."

Reporting the upcoming marriage of Miss Laura Slade and Lt. RikRhaRd B. Skelton, Phil writes: "Everybody will be dressed up fine specly her grandmother Mrs. A. L. Slade who says she will look finer than anyone cept the bride. They will get married. And will live happily ever after."

exist a concentration of $40,000 homes for highly paid technicians.

Neuenschwander said he has been assured by the Department of the Army that the necessary acreage at the Ravenna Arsenal will be made available if the state puts forth a united effort for it.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he and other members of a coordination committee who favor selection of the Ravenna site plan to meet Monday with Cyrus Vance, deputy secretary of defense, to "explore the situation."

The state will present its arguments for the Ravenna site at a Washington hearing next Tuesday, at which Gov. James A. Rhodes will appear personally.

The Atomic Energy Commission has set June 15 as the deadline for applications from over the country from groups seeking the electron volt accelerator for their areas.

State officials were criticized for their handling of the Ravenna location by Rep. Robert E. Sweeney, Democrat serving at-large for the state, during a luncheon in Washington Thursday for the Southern Ohio group promoting the Piketon site.

Sweeney said he was shocked to learn that the Defense Department had never given a commitment that the Ravenna site would be available. He said someone in Ohio "has been leading the people down a primrose path," in an obvious swipe at Rhodes.

He indicated that if the Defense Department doesn't release the Ravenna property by June 15, "Jim Rhodes should crawl in off the limb and go for the Pike County site."

Westminster Bible Class Holds Session

The Westminster Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Route 2. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. Charles Smith, president, opened the meeting with devotionals led by Miss Martha Warner. She repeated from memory a poem entitled "A Friend" and closed with the class repeating Psalm 23 in unison.

Secretary and treasurer reports were read and it was announced that there is a bank balance of $28.34. Cards of thanks were read. A memorial check was received by the treasurer and will be placed in the church memorial fund honoring a departed member. Get well cards were signed by those present to be sent to ill and shut-in members.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held next month at the Lancaster Campgrounds in the cottage of Mrs. Loring Evans.

Mrs. Orin Dreisbach and daughter, Roselyn Eccard, gave a report of their recent trip to Hawaii.

Miss Martha Warner and Mrs. G. G. Campbell assisted the hostess in serving a desert course.

Dear Abby: Too Much Too Easily!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I think of how many boys would give anything for the opportunity our son had and threw away, I could cry. He is 19 and has had one year of college, but he washed out. Both his father and I are college graduates and over the years we have stressed the importance of a college education. Our son was an average high school student, but he was active in sports so we thought if he concentrated on his studies in college he would do better. Abby, we gave this boy a beautiful wardrobe, a car of his own and a liberal allowance, and he didn't even make grades good enough to keep in school. We later learned he didn't bother to go to half his classes. He has a good mind, he is good-looking and has never had any trouble making friends. Where have we failed?

HEARTBROKEN
DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Do not assume that because HE failed, YOU did. Your mistake was in giving him too much. A boy who has never had to work for anything has difficulty disciplining himself to work for grades. You can lead a lad to college, but you can't make him think. Take heart in the knowledge that some people mature later than others. Perhaps one day your son will realize his foolishness and resume his schooling. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that a girl can get cancer from kissing a boy who smokes a lot if he has an open cut on his lip. Is this true?

WORRYING
DEAR WORRYING: This is not true. But other diseases are easily transmitted in this way. While you may be old enough to read, you are obviously not old enough to kiss anyone on the lips. If you want to quit worrying, I advise you to kiss less and read more.

DEAR ABBY: After eight years of marriage my husband suddenly quit wearing his wedding ring. I asked him whom he was trying to deceive into thinking that he was not a married man. He denied that it was intentional. He is an executive so his job has nothing to do with it. I wanted to give him a taste of his own medicine so I refused to wear my wedding ring unless he started wearing his again. He put it on, but a week later I noticed that he was without it. This time it was under the pretense that he had removed it to wash his hands and "forgot" to put it back on his finger. The ring lay in front of his face in the soap dish for over a week. I know that he has no objections to wearing a wedding ring because when he first met me he was wearing one, and his wife had been dead for over a year. Please advise me as I am

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: Don't jump to conclusions. Perhaps his forgetfulness IS accidental. Don't attempt to give him a dose of his own medicine. An overdose could be fatal. (To your marriage.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SERIOUS" IN PHILADELPHIA: If you permit your wife to talk you into piercing your ears so that you can wear earrings just to please her, go ahead, and pierce them. What's another couple of holes in your head?

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Route 1, Lockbourne, and Mrs. W. C. Keny of Columbus, attended the 1965 "Salute to Ray Bliss" dinner Wednesday evening at the Neil House. The welcome was given by Gov. Westminster Bible Class Holds Session

The Westminster Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Route 2. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. Charles Smith, president, opened the meeting with devotionals led by Miss Martha Warner. She repeated from memory a poem entitled "A Friend" and closed with the class repeating Psalm 23 in unison.

Secretary and treasurer reports were read and it was announced that there is a bank balance of $28.34. Cards of thanks were read. A memorial check was received by the treasurer and will be placed in the church memorial fund honoring a departed member. Get well cards were signed by those present to be sent to ill and shut-in members.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held next month at the Lancaster Campgrounds in the cottage of Mrs. Loring Evans.

Mrs. Orin Dreisbach and daughter, Roselyn Eccard, gave a report of their recent trip to Hawaii.

Miss Martha Warner and Mrs. G. G. Campbell assisted the hostess in serving a desert course.

Grove Reunion Is Held in Ashville Park

The 19th Grove Reunion was held in the shelterhouse at Ashville Community Park with 90 relatives and friends participating in a basket dinner at noon.

Eddie Dumm, president, conducted the business session. Betty Gifford read the secretary's report.

The following new officers were named: Bob McClure, president; Ruth Waple, secretary and treasurer; games committee, Bob Waple, Bernard Carle and Dale Gifford.

Alva Hanley and Ethel Wohrle each received $1 for being the oldest man and woman present. The youngest baby girl was Angela Waple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Waple and the youngest baby boy was Tom Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright. They received gifts of 50 cents each.

Guitar music was presented by Janie Wright and Cindy Valentine. Games were played and prizes won by Janie Wright, Cindy Valentine, Wayne Dunn, Debbie Dunn and Keith Dunn.

The reunion next year will be held the first Sunday in June in the same location.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Too Much Too Easily!

DEAR ABBY: When I think of how many boys would give anything for the opportunity our son had and threw away, I could cry. He is 19 and has had one year of college, but he washed out. Both his father and I are college graduates and over the years we have stressed the importance of a college education. Our son was an average high school student, but he was active in sports so we thought if he concentrated on his studies in college he would do better. Abby, we gave this boy a beautiful wardrobe, a car of his own and a liberal allowance, and he didn't even make grades good enough to keep in school. We later learned he didn't bother to go to half his classes. He has a good mind, he is good-looking and has never had any trouble making friends. Where have we failed?

HEARTBROKEN
DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Do not assume that because HE failed, YOU did. Your mistake was in giving him too much. A boy who has never had to work for anything has difficulty disciplining himself to work for grades. You can lead a lad to college, but you can't make him think. Take heart in the knowledge that some people mature later than others. Perhaps one day your son will realize his foolishness and resume his schooling. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that a girl can get cancer from kissing a boy who smokes a lot if he has an open cut on his lip. Is this true?

WORRYING
DEAR WORRYING: This is not true. But other diseases are easily transmitted in this way, while you may be old enough to read, you are obviously not old enough to kiss anyone on the lips. If you want to quit worrying, I advise you to kiss less and read more.

DEAR ABBY: After eight years of marriage my husband suddenly quit wearing his wedding ring. I asked him whom he was trying to deceive into thinking that he was not a married man. He denied that it was intentional. He is an executive so his job has nothing to do with it. I wanted to give him a taste of his own medicine so I refused to wear my wedding ring unless he started wearing his again. He put it on, but a week later I noticed that he was without it. This time it was under the pretense that he had removed it to wash his hands and "forgot" to put it back on his finger. The ring lay in front of his face in the soap dish for over a week. I know that he has no objections to wearing a wedding ring because when he first met me he was wearing one, and his wife had been dead for over a year. Please advise me as I am

DEAR CONFUSED: Don't jump to conclusions. Perhaps his forgetfulness IS accidental. Don't attempt to give him a dose of his own medicine. An overdose could be fatal. (To your marriage.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SERIOUS" IN PHILADELPHIA: If you permit your wife to talk you into piercing your ears so that you can wear earrings just to please her, go ahead, and pierce them. What's another couple of holes in your head?

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Route 1, Lockbourne, and Mrs. W. C. Kenty of Columbus, attended the 1965 "Salute to Ray Bliss" dinner Wednesday evening at the Neil House. The welcome was given by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Via television satellite were extended by several party speakers including John S. Andrews, Ohio GOP chairman. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon spoke for the Columbus dinner.

Mrs. McClellan Clark, 410 Faye Ave., recently visited her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Holcomb of Columbus. Tuesday evening they attended commencement exercises at North High School. Their son, John C. Holcomb, was among the graduating class of 402 members. Mrs. Clark also visited other relatives and friends and returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waple, 915 Clinton St., have as guests, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Hobbs of Valparaiso, Fla.

Glue Sniffing Ban Is Sought By Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Youths and others who take to the fad of "glue sniffing" would be confronted with the law under a proposal before the Ohio Legislature.

Sen. Robert C. Blackburn, D-Montgomery, introduced a bill Thursday that would crack down on persons who inhale glue and other solutions "for excitement or intoxication."

He said his measure would impose a fine of $25 to $100 for the first offense. Two-time violators could be fined $100-$500 and each subsequent offense could bring a $1,000 fine and one-year prison term.

Blackburn offered the proposal at busy week-ending sessions at which lawmakers voted to boost the strength of the State Highway Patrol and give storekeepers a better chance of catching shoplifters.

Rep. Terry E. Drake, R-Crawford, led the Highway Patrol bill to House passage although it was greatly weakened from his original proposal which would have boosted patrol strength by 200 men.

Under the measure which now goes to the Senate, 25 patrolmen would be added next year and 25 in 1967 to bring patrol strength to 850. It also lowers from 35 to 30 the maximum age for recruits and cuts the patrol's residency requirement from five years to one.

The shoplifters bill would permit merchants to retain suspects anywhere in the store without search until the arrival of police. Present law allows this only after the suspected thief has passed the check-out counter.

Senators gave 26-1 approval to an emergency act sponsors said would prevent delay of personal property tax collections pending settlement of a suit challenging variations between real estate and personal property assessments.

The bill by Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, would require payment of personal property taxes before the June 30 deadline and provide for adjustment of disputed claims at a later date.

Jones said defeat of the measure could delay $90-$135 million in payments earmarked primarily for schools and local governments. He explained that present law permits taxpayers to withhold payments when claims and assessments are disputed.

Procedures for removal of judges would be spelled out under another Senate-passed bill. It permits the Ohio Supreme Court to name a five-judge commission which could suspend, retire, or remove judges from office.

The measure reserves the right of appeal to the Supreme Court, Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas said, adding that the proposal has the backing of the Ohio State Bar Association.

Senate approval completed legislative action on two House measures. They would give non-teaching school employees six paid holidays a year and add "refinements" to a two-year-old statute requiring registration of auctioneers and their apprentices.

Statehouse Lawn To Get 'Real' Trees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Statehouse garage officials have surrendered to complainants who have campaigned against the "s c r a w n y, sad, sapling-sized" trees planted in the capitol's yard.

Confronted by State Sen. Robert R. Shaw, R-Columbus, who demanded better landscaping, the Underground Parking Commission Thursday:

Set up a committee of landscape architects to tell it how to plant better, larger trees.

Put two "experts," also landscape architects, brought by Shaw to "analyze" the present statehouse plantings, on the new committee.

Decided to pay for any new trees out of a contingency fund containing $50,000 to $75,000.

Shaw, who got the Senate to condemn the trees atop the new $6.6 million Statehouse Garage last week, proclaimed it a victory for tree lovers.

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Fair and warm tonight and Saturday. Low tonight 65. High Saturday 85.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Fair and cool tonight, low 52-58. Mild and sunny today and Saturday.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy, little change in temperature tonight and Saturday with widely scattered afternoon and evening showers and thunder showers. Low tonight 60-66.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Mostly fair and warm tonight and Saturday with chance of an afternoon or evening thundershower. High Saturday 83-88. Low tonight 62-66.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 78-56, Columbus 83-59, Cincinnati 84-63.

Not much change in temperature until warmer about Tuesday. Rainfall will average one quarter to one half inch as scattered showers and thundershowers Sunday and again about the middle of next week.

Heavily-Traveled, Divided Highway Is Labeled 'Safest' for Motorist

CHICAGO (AP) — "Now this is a long trip so play it safe; drive on divided highways where the traffic is heavy." As odd as this advice may seem, it is sound. Statistics show that despite heavy travel, divided highways, such as turnpikes, parkways and interstate highways, have a much lower fatality rate than older highways.

During the three-day Memorial Day holiday period this year, in which a record 474 persons died in traffic crashes, divided highways were the safest auto routes.

An Associated Press survey indicated today that 12 deaths occurred on such roads in this period. And year-long traffic records show the same results.

National Safety Council records show the fatality rate on turnpikes and interstate highways is less than half the national average and less than one-third the rural mileage death rate.

One key reason is that head-on collisions are extremely rare on divided highways, separated by land or by ditches, earthen mounds or tough steel or concrete barriers.

Head-on collisions took 7,361 lives in the United States last year, accounting for 15.4 percent of the 47,800 traffic fatalities.

A motorist in Kansas and another in Michigan were killed during the Memorial Day holiday period after their cars crossed a grass median of the divided highways and collided with oncoming vehicles.

Steel barriers between divided highways are designed to prevent such accidents, but the barriers figured in two of the holiday deaths.

An Ohio woman was killed near Harrisburg, Pa., as the car in which she was riding struck the steel median barrier on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. An Ohio man was killed on Interstate 71 in Columbus when his car hit a steel-fender guard rail and careened into a utility pole.

The other causes of deaths on divided highways during the holiday included striking a bridge rail, ramming into a parked car, skidding into a ditch, hitting a light pole and running off the road.

Early turnpike operations in the United States were marred by head-on collisions caused by cars crossing into oncoming lanes. However, remedial steps are paying off.

During the first seven years of the New Jersey Turnpike, from 1952 to 1958, 48 of the 158 fatal accidents were caused by cars crossing over the unprotected median strip.

There has been one cross-median fatality since installation of a steel guard rail in 1961.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike is installing a steel divider along its entire 470-mile, four-lane length.

Numerous other expressways are installing or have installed steel dividers.

Lady Missionary Battles Headhunters' Illiteracy

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—"My host was a headhunter.

"Of course he gave up that sort of thing when he became a Christian, but he was still proud of the photograph showing him with the skulls of his victims, and in a neighboring village not long ago, they cut off 34 heads."

The speaker was a spectacled, white-haired Englishwoman named Lily Qui, the first missionary allowed to enter northeast India's Nagaland for 10 years.

She didn't go to the primitive Indian state to campaign against head hunting, but to launch a program to teach the Nagas to read, write and start development programs to improve their villages.

"Nagaland has 17 languages, but almost none of the people can read or write any of them," Miss Qui recounts. "But in two weeks, 30 volunteers walked in from the hills for training, and then went back to the villages to teach literacy."

Miss Qui, who has been spreading education and the Gospel in India since 1938, is one of about 40 experts from 23 countries who have been meeting in Jerusalem on ways to fulfill one of the world's great hungers—the hunger to read and write.

Few of the experts at the Jerusalem meeting have mingled with headhunters or dodged elephants in jeeps the way Miss Qui has, but all of them have faced the same problem of bringing knowledge and the urge for progress to countries where few have been to school.

The Jerusalem literacy seminar was sponsored by the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature. The committee, part of the U.S. National Council of Churches with headquarters in New York, is one of the organizations working with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

p. m. Friday at the church. About 190 children have been enrolled in the classes. The program, which is open to parents and friends, will include a worship service, reports and demonstrations by each department.

Following the program there will be exhibits and a social hour.

zations and overseas governments to help wipe out illiteracy.

According to UNESCO figures, only 6 of every 10 persons in the world have ever been to school, and 700 million adults—including 8 million in the United States—can neither read nor write.

"Illiteracy is a waste of the world's resources, and the urge for education is a new revolution," says Dr. Floyd Shacklock, executive director of the committee, whose studies show that illiteracy goes hand in hand with poverty and disease.

To help bring the energy and progress that goes with reading and writing, the committee provides guidance and funds for Christian churches that are waging literacy campaigns in 58 countries.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The teachings of Baha'u'llah are based on universal principles, equally suitable for East and West.

"Many thought the teachings of Jesus were meant only for the Jews. The Romans felt they had nothing to learn from Him, and they were deprived of His grace. When men today turn from the teachings of Baha'u'llah, they are acting just as the Romans did in former days.

"Western advancement in material progress can enrich eastern civilization; and eastern depth of spirituality can give grace and enlightenment to the practicality of the west. Only under the mutual exchange of these capacities can the world become truly one."

Toledo Fireworks Firms Moving Out

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's two largest fireworks distributors, given 24 hours to clear their warehouses, have removed thousands of dollars worth of fireworks, according to the Toledo Fire Prevention Bureau.

The Banner Fireworks Co. and Sunset Fireworks Co. complied with the city order. Action was taken against the firms under the city's new fire prevention code, which enables police to confiscate fireworks in buildings which do not meet safety and fire regulations.

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:

Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.

Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind...

But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time.

A parable then: the clock in the steeple!
Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.
Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:

Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.

Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind . . .

But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time.

A parable then: the clock in the steeple!

Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.

Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

Show Yourself a Man

SOLOMON ASCENDS THE THRONE OF ISRAEL

Scripture — I Kings 1-3.

By R. H. RAMSEY

IN TODAY'S LESSON we find the reign of David drawing rapidly to a close. He was more than 70 years old, rapidly becoming senile, and his abdication was imminent. With this thought in mind, David's eldest surviving son, Adonijah, took steps to claim the throne of Israel.

As eldest son it seemed Adonijah was the legitimate heir and his cause was supported by a number of David's court, including Abiathar, the priest, and Joab, David's military commander, and others of the "King's servants."

Adonijah may have been the popular choice, but Nathan the prophet and Bathsheba, Solomon's mother, had other ideas. Learning of Adonijah's plotting, they sought audience with the king to remind him of an earlier promise that Solomon was to succeed him as king. Nathan recounted Adonijah's treachery in such a way that David was roused from his lethargy, and not only vigorously reaffirmed his original intention, but gave explicit orders for Solomon to self a man; to keep charge of the Lord, walk in His ways, keep His statutes, commandments, judgments and testimonies, for in this way he and Israel would prosper.

Well aware of the endowment that had been his, David remembered how he had abused his privileges and sinned against God. His sins, though repented of and forgiven, haunted him and he was well able to warn Solomon of the dangers besetting men who do not walk in God's ways and keep His laws.

David's charge to Solomon is equally apropos today. Our age, perhaps as never before, demands that we come to grips with our opportunities; and the times we live in demand we assume our "manhood" and live up to the loyal and royal within us.

Though Solomon was known as a peaceful king, early in his reign he was forced to execute or banish several men who had plotted against him as they had plotted against the now-dead David. Those executed for their treachery were Adonijah, Joab, and Shimei. Abiathar, the priest,

GOLDEN TEXT

"I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and shew thyself a man; And keep the charge of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself." — I Kings 2:23.

be anointed that very day, which would seal the matter permanently.

Accordingly, Solomon, in company with Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, one of David's military commanders, went to Gihon, where he was anointed with oil from the tabernacle and pronounced David's successor. Thus, by royal decree and anointing, Solomon assumed the role of king of Israel.

As soon as Adonijah was informed of Solomon's anointing he knew his plans had failed, and proceeded no further. Instead, he threw himself on Solomon's mercy, pleading for his life. Solomon refused to slay him, providing he proved himself a worthy man.

Solomon was probably 20 years old when David named him successor to the throne of Israel, yet he already possessed qualities which would help him surmount the challenges which faced him. Even so, with fatherly wisdom, David charged the newly anointed king with an unforgettable code of behavior, admonishing his son to stand up to his challenges and prove himself a man; to keep charge of the Lord, walk in His ways, keep His statutes, commandments, judgments and testimonies, for in this way he and Israel would prosper.

Solomon's request reveals his insecurity in his new position and his faith in a power outside himself. He knew that unless his prayers were answered his reign would fail. Consequently he prayed for the one supreme gift he felt lacking—the wisdom of an understanding heart.

Solomon already had the qualities which would make him a great king, but he must have been aware by the magnitude of his responsibility as king of the chosen people. Recognizing his own humbleness before God, Solomon asked only for the wisdom of an understanding heart.

Solomon's request reveals his insecurity in his new position and his faith in a power outside himself. He knew that unless his prayers were answered his reign would fail. Consequently he prayed for the one supreme gift he felt lacking—the wisdom of an understanding heart.

SOLOMON ASCENDS THE THRONE OF ISRAEL

Scripture — 1 Kings 1-3.

By R. H. RAMSEY

IN TODAY'S LESSON we find the reign of David drawing rapidly to a close. He was more than 70 years old, rapidly becoming senile, and his abdication was imminent. With this thought in mind, David's eldest surviving son, Adonijah, took steps to claim the throne of Israel.

As eldest son it seemed Adonijah was the legitimate heir and his cause was supported by a number of David's court, including Abiathar, the priest, and Joab, David's military commander, and others of the "King's servants."

Adonijah may have been the popular choice, but Nathan the prophet and Bathsheba, Solomon's mother, had other ideas. Learning of Adonijah's plotting, they sought audience with the king to remind him of an earlier promise that Solomon was to succeed him as king. Nathan recounted Adonijah's treachery in such a way that David was roused from his lethargy, and not only vigorously reaffirmed his original intention, but gave explicit orders for Solomon to self a man; to keep charge of the Lord, walk in His ways, keep His statutes, commandments, judgments and testimonies, for in this way he and Israel would prosper.

Well aware of the endowment that had been his, David remembered how he had abused his privileges and sinned against God. His sins, though repented of and forgiven, haunted him and he was well able to warn Solomon of the dangers besetting men who do not walk in God's ways and keep His laws.

David's charge to Solomon is equally apropos today. Our age, perhaps as never before, demands that we come to grips with our opportunities; and the times we live in demand we assume our "manhood" and live up to the loyal and royal within us.

Though Solomon was known as a peaceful king, early in his reign he was forced to execute or banish several men who plotted against him as they had plotted against the now-dead David. Those executed for their treachery were Adonijah, Joab, and Shimei. Abiathar, the priest,

GOLDEN TEXT

"I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and shew thyself a man; And keep the charge of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself."—1 Kings 2:23.

be anointed that very day, which would seal the matter permanently.

Accordingly, Solomon, in company with Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, one of David's military commanders, went to Gihon, where he was anointed with oil from the tabernacle and pronounced David's successor. Thus, by royal decree and anointing, Solomon assumed the role of king of Israel.

As soon as Adonijah was informed of Solomon's anointing he knew his plans had failed, and proceeded no further. Instead, he threw himself on Solomon's mercy, pleading for his life. Solomon refused to slay him, providing he proved himself a worthy man.

Solomon was probably 20 years old when David named him successor to the throne of Israel, yet he already possessed qualities which would help him surmount the challenges which faced him. Even so, with fatherly wisdom, David charged the newly anointed king with an unforgettable code of behavior, admonishing his son to stand up to his challenges and prove himself.

was removed from office and banished.

With these troublemakers out of the way, Solomon proceeded to form an alliance with Egypt by marrying the Pharaoh's daughter, before retiring to Gibeon to offer sacrifices to God.

It was here in Gibeon that God appeared to Solomon. In a dream the young king found himself in the presence of God with the Almighty offering him whatsoever he needed for his own well-being and for the prosperity of Israel.

Solomon already had the qualities which would make him a great king, but he must have been awed by the magnitude of his responsibility as king of the chosen people. Recognizing his own humbleness before God, Solomon asked only for the wisdom of an understanding heart with which to judge his people.

Solomon's request reveals his insecurity in his new position and his faith in a power outside himself. He knew that unless his prayers were answered his reign would fail. Consequently he prayed for the one supreme gift he felt lacking—the wisdom of an understanding heart.

GI's Mother Doubts Note He Penned

CHESTER, W. Va. (AP)—The parents of an American serviceman captured in Viet Nam say their son couldn't have written a letter attributed to him and be in his right mind.

A Moscow newspaper printed a letter purportedly written by "an American military serviceman, George Smith," captured in November, 1963, to his mother.

The U. S. Defense Department has on record a Sgt. George E. Smith, son of Mrs. Lucille A. Potts of Chester, W. Va., who has been a prisoner in North Viet Nam since Nov. 24, 1963.

The newspaper said Smith in the letter described his captors as "very humane people" and said that "their humanity for a foreign soldier who came with weapons to their soil still surprises me."

The letter also reportedly said: "I'd like this testimony of an American, who was an eye witness to the barbarisms we are committing in South Viet Nam, to help our brothers to get out faster from this cursed and unnecessary war."

Mrs. Potts said that if the soldier is her son "It doesn't sound like him. He volunteered to go (to Viet Nam) in the first place and I don't think he would complain like that about being there."

No, says the university, but, yes, say 36 school teachers in Stow, Summit County, who have backed up their claim with a petition.

State Liquor Director Donald Cook confirmed that his department has begun an investigation into the matter.

In Kent, Fred Head, assistant registrar of the university, said he knew of no equipment at the school capable of producing such cards. He said identity cards carried by Kent students are not printed on campus.

Great Breakthrough Is Staged

By Hal Boyle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—It was a tense moment for all.

Artillery boomed in the distance. Warplanes roared off on missions perilous to many.

At the edge of the great air base here, just outside the main security checkpoint, hundreds of men stood in sweating anxiety outside a large white-painted building.

In the dense throng were airmen just back from bombing and strafing North Viet Nam. There were dust-caked Marines, worn by days of patrol on mountaintop and across rice paddies.

There also were clerks and bakers and mechanics and demolition men and beret-capped Army officers who had journeyed in from lonely outposts for "the big operation."

A murmur ran through heat weary men:

"What the hell is holding this thing up?"

Inside the big building, Marine Lt. George F. Hoffman of Johnstown, Pa., was just as tense. He knew the beleaguering force outside couldn't be held at bay much longer.

He gave a final inspection to his 60 Vietnamese and American assistants. He looked at his watch. It was 11 o'clock—zero hour.

"All right, let 'em in," said Hoffman.

The doors swung open—and the great breakthrough was under way.

The long-awaited opening of the Navy Post Exchange at Da Nang had taken place. Troops grabbed up shopping baskets and rushed pell-mell from counter to counter, buying everything they saw.

It was like the opening of a huge supermarket back home only bigger. It was payday for most of the men, and they were as eager to spend their money.

The 70 cases of beer in stock were gone in five minutes. Some 2,000 cases of soda and soft drinks went quickly, too.

Lucky first comers staggered out of the $100,000 warehouse burdened with cameras, watches, tape recorders, deodorants, film packs, clothing, and $28.15 portable refrigerators and small electric fans.

Scores of Marines and airmen, unable to enter the packed building, left after long waiting. When the doors finally closed, some 7,000 men had spent $31,000.

"Soon we'll have a million-dollar-a-month operation here," said Lt. Hoffman, who also will open five field post exchanges in the five northern provinces that make up the 1st Corps area in South Viet Nam.

Like any good businessman, the lieutenant believes in expanding in prosperous times. The indications are that Uncle Sam's nephews in uniform will be spending more rather than less money here in the future.

OSU Boosts Budget to $39.5 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's board of trustees has approved a record budget of nearly $39.5 million which will permit a 7½ per cent average increase in faculty salaries.

The new budget is about $4½ million more than last year. Besides the increase for faculty which President Novice G. Fawcett said will substantially strengthen OSU's competitive position, an average of 5 per cent increase also goes to the non-classified staff. The budget also allows mandatory civil services pay increases.

The budget is contingent on passage of the appropriations act in the Legislature.

Budgets were also approved for the university hospitals, $9.1 million; the extension services, $4.1 million; agricultural experiment station, $3.3 million, and research foundation, $656,000.

More than $800,000 in grants and gifts were reported. One was a $10,000 gift from Willard M. Kiplinger, Washington, D.C. publisher, to establish a scholarship fund for journalism students in memory of the late George J. Kienzie, who was the journalism school's director.

Ohio State Branches To Get Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board released Thursday a total of $4.3 million in capital improvement funds to Ohio State University for projects on the campus and the Lima and Mansfield Branches.

The money comes from the $250 million capital improvements bond issue approved by Ohio voters in 1963.

The board released $1,916,315 for classroom buildings at the university's Mansfield branch and $1,776,315 for classrooms at the Lima branch.

A total of $2,668,000 was released for classroom and library buildings on the Dayton campus of the joint Miami and Ohio State Universities, and $1,331,175 to Kent State University for a new applied science and fine arts building.

Boy Scout Is Crowned Spelling King

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michael Kerpan Jr., a 12-year-old Boy Scout from Tulsa, Okla., won the 38th National Spelling Bee Thursday.

He battled for 17 rounds with the other finalist among the 70 youngsters who began the contest for $5,700 in prizes Wednesday.

Second place winner is Judy Marie Guarr, also 12, from Topeka, Kan.

Both are seventh-graders.

For Michael, the victory means a $1,000 first prize, a weekend trip to New York and an appearance on a nationally televised program, the Ed Sullivan Show.

The second-place prize for Judy is $500 in cash.

Michael scored his victory by correctly spelling "largetto," a musical term, after Judy had misspelled it as "largetto" in the 17th round of competition between the two finalists.

Under the contest rules Michael was required to spell another word correctly and did so with "eczema," a skin ailment.

Michael studied 100,000 words in preparing for the Oklahoma state contest sponsored by the Tulsa Tribune. It was his third state spelling bee for his first appearance in the national finals.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Are juveniles buying liquor with fake identity cards printed on the campus of Kent State University?

No, says the university, but, yes, say 36 school teachers in Stow, Summit County, who have backed up their claim with a petition.

State Liquor Director Donald Cook confirmed that his department has begun an investigation into the matter.

In Kent, Fred Head, assistant registrar of the university, said he knew of no equipment at the school capable of producing such cards. He said identity cards carried by Kent students are not printed on campus.

Great Breakthrough Is Staged

By Hal Boyle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—It was a tense moment for all.

Artillery boomed in the distance. Warplanes roared off on missions perilous to many.

At the edge of the great air base here, just outside the main security checkpoint, hundreds of men stood in sweating anxiety outside a large white-painted building.

In the dense throng were airmen just back from bombing and strafing North Viet Nam. There were dust-caked Marines, worn by days of patrol on mountain and across rice paddies. There also were clerks and bakers and mechanics and demolition men and beret-capped Army officers who had journeyed in from lonely outposts for "the big operation."

A murmur ran through the weary men: "What the hell is holding this thing up?"

Inside the big building, Marine Lt. George F. Hoffman of Johnstown, Pa., was just as tense. He knew the beleaguering force outside couldn't be held at bay much longer.

He gave a final inspection to his 60 Vietnamese and American assistants. He looked at his watch. It was 11 o'clock—zero hour.

"All right, let 'em in," said Hoffman. The doors swung open—and the great breakthrough was under way.

The long-awaited opening of the Navy Post Exchange at Da Nang had taken place. Troops grabbed up shopping baskets and rushed pell-mell from counter to counter, buying everything they saw.

It was like the opening of a huge supermarket back home only bigger. It was payday for most of the men, and they were as eager to spend their money.

The 70 cases of beer in stock were gone in five minutes. Some 2,000 cases of soda and soft drinks went quickly, too.

Lucky first comers staggered out of the $100,000 warehouse burdened with cameras, watches, tape recorders, deodorants, film packs, clothing, and $28.15 portable refrigerators and small electric fans.

Scores of Marines and airmen, unable to enter the packed building, left after long waiting. When the doors finally closed, some 7,000 men had spent $31,000.

"Soon we'll have a million-dollar-a-month operation here," said Lt. Hoffman, who also will open five field post exchanges in the five northern provinces that make up the 1st Corps area in South Viet Nam.

Like any good businessman, the lieutenant believes in expanding in prosperous times. The indications are that Uncle Sam's nephews in uniform will be spending more rather than less money here in the future.

OSU Boosts Budget to $39.5 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's board of trustees has approved a record budget of nearly $39.5 million which will permit a 7 1/2 per cent average increase in faculty salaries.

The new budget is about $4 1/2 million more than last year. Besides the increase for faculty which President Novice G. Fawcett said will substantially strengthen OSU's competitive position, an average of 5 per cent increase also goes to the non-classified staff. The budget also allows mandatory civil services pay increases.

The budget is contingent on passage of the appropriations act in the Legislature.

Budgets were also approved for the university hospitals, $9.1 million; the extension services, $4.1 million; agricultural experiment station, $3.3 million, and research foundation, $656,000.

More than $800,000 in grants and gifts were reported. One was a $10,000 gift from Willard M. Kiplinger, Washington, D.C. publisher, to establish a scholarship fund for journalism students in memory of the late George J. Kienle, who was the journalism school's director.

Man Electrocuted

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth R. Mallabone, 24, of Cuyahoga Falls was killed when he came into contact with two high tension wires Thursday.

Ohio State Branches To Get Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board released Thursday a total of $4.3 million in capital improvement funds to Ohio State University for projects on the campus and the Lima and Mansfield Branches.

The money comes from the $250 million capital improvements bond issue approved by Ohio voters in 1963.

The board released $1,916,315 for classroom buildings at the university's Mansfield branch and $1,776,315 for classrooms at the Lima branch.

A total of $2,668,000 was released for classroom and library buildings on the Dayton campus of the joint Miami and Ohio State Universities, and $1,331,175 to Kent State University for a new applied science and fine arts building.

Boy Scout Is Crowned Spelling King

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michael Kerpan Jr., a 12-year-old Boy Scout from Tulsa, Okla., won the 38th National Spelling Bee Thursday.

He battled for 17 rounds with the other finalist among the 70 youngsters who began the contest for $5,700 in prizes Wednesday.

Second place winner is Judy Marie Guarr, also 12, from Topeka, Kan.

Both are seventh-graders.

For Michael, the victory means a $1,000 first prize, a weekend trip to New York and an appearance on a nationally televised program, the Ed Sullivan Show.

The second-place prize for Judy is $500 in cash.

Michael scored his victory by correctly spelling "largetto," a musical term, after Judy had misspelled it as "largetto" in the 17th round of competition between the two finalists.

Under the contest rules Michael was required to spell another word correctly and did so with "eczema," a skin ailment. Michael studied 100,000 words in preparing for the Oklahoma state contest sponsored by the Tulsa Tribune. It was his third state spelling bee for his first appearance in the national finals.

President Auctioned

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Tom Popejoy, president of the University of New Mexico, brought $24.75 at auction.

He was "sold" in a UNM student project to raise funds for charity.

High bidder was Betty Ann Gunther, a Spanish major. The president must clear her dormitory room and serve her breakfast.

Jewelers' GE Chalk Wins In Babe Ruth

L. M. Butch stopped Lindsey Bakers, 6-4, and General Electric overwhelmed Logan Elm, 16-4, in games played yesterday in the Babe Ruth Division of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program.

For the Jewelers, Nick Wickerham made a game saving catch in deep left field with two away in the top of the seventh for their second win in as many starts.

Jeff Steele was the winning pitcher. He went the route, fanning 11 of the Bakers, walking three and allowing eight hits.

Don Cordle was the losing pitcher. He walked three, whiffed 13 and was touched for seven hits.

THE LONGEST blast was a three-base blow off the bat of Lindsey's Phil Miller. George Hill doubled for the winners.

Steele, in addition to his stalwart performance on the mound cracked two singles and scored a run. Bob Walisa had two hits in four trips for the losers.

General Electric was never in trouble in its game with Logan Elm. The winners scored 11 runs in the first inning, blasting starting Logan Elm hurler Steve Swank out of the box. He was relieved by Mike Helwage, who fanned six and walked one.

Rick Congrove pitched and batted the Electric team to the win. Going the full six innings on the mound, he fanned 11, was touched for nine hits and did not issue a single walk.

At the plate, he blasted three hits, including a triple and a double.

For Logan Elm, Russ Mer-rin's triple was the longest hit. He also was credited with a pair of singles.

Ohio State Hurler Chalks 3-Hit Win

OMAHA (AP)—Steve Arlin's courageous 15-inning job Thursday night for Ohio State, a three-hitter with 20 strikeouts, overshadowed Arizona State's relentless drive to its first College World Series championship.

Arlin pitched a four-hit victory over Florida State Monday, had one day of rest, started Wednesday against Arizona State and was knocked out in the first inning by four solid hits and four Ohio State errors. Then he came back Thursday with possibly the top game in Series history.

His 1-0 shutout eliminated Washington State. Then Arizona ousted St. Louis 6-2, making it a two-team race.

Arizona State, 4-0 in the double elimination tourney, can wrap it up by beating the Buckeyes tonight.

Ohio State, 3-1, must whip ASU two straight, tonight and Saturday, to claim its first NCAA baseball crown and the Big Ten's sixth.

Ohio State's cause is far from hopeless, even though Arlin is through for the series, barring rainouts. Marty Karow will start left-handed John Durant, who pitched a six-hit 14-1 victory over Washington State Tuesday.

If Durant wins, Karow can come back Saturday with Ron Kitchon, senior righthander who held ASU to one run in 7-2-3 innings Wednesday.

SEOGA Junior Golf Tournament Slated at PCC

Young golfers representing eight southeast Ohio country clubs will compete for honors tomorrow at Pickaway Country Club.

It will be the first Southeastern Ohio Golf Association Juniors golf tournament, a scaled-down version of the annual SEOGA tourney to be played the following weekend in Marietta.

In all, 48 youngsters under 21 will tee off at the PCC beginning 9 a. m. Saturday in hopes of landing one or more of 16 trophies offered.

Representing Pickaway Country Club in the test, as a result of qualifying rounds, will be: 1. Bruce Helwage, 72; 2. Tim Dickinson, 75; 3. Dick Patrick, 80; 4. Tim Adams, 82; 5. Chuck Smith, 83; and 6. Bill Weldon, 85.

OTHER clubs invited to send teams of six youngsters for the tourney are Lancaster Country Club, Chillicothe Country Club, Marietta, Athens, Fairgreens, Gallipolis and Hocking Hills.

The tourney will be based on medal play over 18 holes. Trophies will be awarded for team effort, tournament medalist and runner-up and for medalist honors on each of the other teams.

Bob MacFadden, chairman of the SEOGA Juniors program here, has planned a full day of activities for the youngsters. Following the tournament will be an awards dinner and Tom Cassidy, host pro, will conduct a golf clinic.

The local course will be closed to member play during the match. The course will be available to everyone as spectators, however, and there is no admission charge.

An innovation in local matches is to be provided by local ham radio operators.

A running tabulation of the scores is to be transmitted from the course to a central scoring

Atlanta Records 20-0 Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No one yet is calling the Atlanta Crackers baseball's newest Murderers Row, but the Toronto Maple Leafs must feel they have earned the title.

The Crackers sprang a 20-hit attack on the fading Leafs Thursday while on their way to a 20-0 shutout, the worst shutout drubbing in modern International League history.

Elsewhere Jacksonville defeated Buffalo twice 6-4 and 9-4 while Syracuse downed Columbus 6-1. Rochester and Toledo were not scheduled.

Syracuse scored all six of its runs against rookie Frank Shel-lenbach, who had won three straight since being promoted to Columbus from the Southern League.

Mac's, Pickaway Dairy Trip Mosquito League Opponents

Two new teams in the Mosquito League of the Circleville Youth Baseball program opened their seasons yesterday with losses.

Block's Shoes was handed a 14-2 thumping by Pickaway Dairy. Archers Sporting Goods was edged by Mac's Goodyear, 4-3.

For the Goodyear nine, Kris Kline was the winning hurler, limiting the Archer team to two hits. He walked only four and fanned 15. In addition, he was credited with three RBIs.

WHS Seeking Coach Again

Washington High School is still looking for a head football coach and a staff of grid assistants.

Charles Edward Pratt, 26, of Bowling Green, who was offered a contract last week, has informed the Washington Board of Education that he is going elsewhere.

He had earlier indicated he would accept the WHS grid post.

The South Central Ohio League school is now virtually without a grid staff. Only Roger Mickle, an elementary instructor who assisted in 1964, remains on the coaching force.

Head coach Dick Anders was relieved of his post earlier this year by the board.

Legion Edges Purina, 2-1

American Legion slipped past Ralston Purina, 2-1, last night in the only Little League major contest scheduled.

Danny Zickafosse was the winning pitcher for the Legion. He went the distance and gave up only two hits.

Leasure started for the Millers. He went three and was relieved by Tod Conrad who suffered the loss.

Mick Chelickowsky and Greg Shires scored for the Legion. Jerry Easter had two hits in three trips at bat.

Rod Kassler tallied Purina's only run.

Mike Mills tagged the longest of the three hits Mac's collected when he blasted a double.

FOR the losing Archer team, Mark Hoffman went the route on the mound. He walked five and fanned seven.

Hoffman blasted a double with a runner on base, driving in one run and scored twice himself.

The Tiremen led off with three runs in the first inning after Archers had opened the game with one. The winning tally came in the third frame and the other two scores for the losers came in the top of the fifth.

Pickaway Dairy was never threatened by Block's in a game played at Atwater. The winners opened with a run in the bottom of the first, blasted six across the second, added five in the third and then coasted in with runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Robin Martin went all the way for the Dairymen, fanning nine, walking six and allowing three hits.

Robin Ott wielded a big bat for the winners, driving in four runs with four singles and scoring two. Mike Peters drove in three runs with a pair of singles and crossed the plate twice. For Blocks, Mark Justice tagged a double. Giffer was charged with the loss.

Jewelers' GE Chalk Wins In Babe Ruth

L. M. Butch stopped Lindsey Bakers, 6-4, and General Electric overwhelmed Logan Elm, 16-4, in games played yesterday in the Babe Ruth Division of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program.

For the Jewelers, Nick Wickerham made a game saving catch in deep left-field with two away in the top of the seventh for their second win in as many starts.

Jeff Steele was the winning pitcher. He went the route, fanning 11 of the Bakers, walking three and allowing eight hits.

Don Cordle was the losing pitcher. He walked three, whiffed 13 and was touched for seven hits.

THE LONGEST blast was a three-base blow off the bat of Lindsey's Phil Miller. George Hill doubled for the winners.

Steele, in addition to his stalwart performance on the mound cracked two singles and scored a run. Bob Walisa had two hits in four trips for the losers.

General Electric was never in trouble in its game with Logan Elm. The winners scored 11 runs in the first inning, blasting starting Logan Elm hurler Steve Swank out of the box. He was relieved by Mike Helwagen, who fanned six and walked one.

Rick Congrove pitched and batted the Electric team to the win. Going the full six innings on the mound, he fanned 11, was touched for nine hits and did not issue a single walk.

At the plate, he blasted three hits, including a triple and a double.

For Logan Elm, Russ Merin's triple was the longest hit. He also was credited with a pair of singles.

Ohio State Hurler Chalks 3-Hit Win

OMAHA (AP)—Steve Arlin's courageous 15-inning job Thursday night for Ohio State, a three-hitter with 20 strikeouts, overshadowed Arizona State's relentless drive to its first College World Series championship.

Arlin pitched a four-hit victory over Florida State Monday, had one day of rest, started Wednesday against Arizona State and was knocked out in the first inning by four solid hits and four Ohio State errors. Then he came back Thursday with possibly the top game in Series history.

His 1-0 shutout eliminated Washington State. Then Arizona ousted St. Louis 6-2, making it a two-team race.

Arizona State, 4-0 in the double elimination tourney, can wrap it up by beating the Buckeyes tonight.

Ohio State, 3-1, must whip ASU two straight, tonight and Saturday, to claim its first NCAA baseball crown and the Big Ten's sixth.

Ohio State's cause is far from hopeless, even though Arlin is through for the series, barring rainouts. Marty Karow will start lefthander John Durant, who pitched a six-hit 14-1 victory over Washington State Tuesday.

If Durant wins, Karow can come back Saturday with Ron Kitchon, senior righthander who held ASU to one run in 7-2-3 in nines Wednesday.

SEOGA Junior Golf Tournament Slated at PCC

Young golfers representing eight southeast Ohio country clubs will compete for honors tomorrow at Pickaway Country Club.

It will be the first Southeastern Ohio Golf Association Juniors golf tournament, a scaled-down version of the annual SEOGA tourney to be played the following weekend in Mar'tta.

In all, 48 youngsters under 21 will tee off at the PCC beginning 9 a. m. Saturday in hopes of landing one or more of 16 trophies offered.

Representing Pickaway Country Club in the test, as a result of qualifying rounds, will be: 1. Bruce Helwagen, 72; 2. Tim Dickinson, 75; 3. Dick Patrick, 80; 4. Tim Adams, 82; 5. Chuck Smith, 83; and 6. Bill Weldon, 85.

OTHER clubs invited to send teams of six youngsters for the tourney are Lancaster Country Club, Chillicothe Country Club, Marietta, Athens, Fairgreens, Gallipolis and Hocking Hills.

The tourney will be based on medal play over 18 holes. Trophies will be awarded for team effort, tournament medalist and runner-up and for medalist honors on each of the other teams.

Bob MacFadden, chairman of the SEOGA Juniors program here, has planned a full day of activities for the youngsters. Following the tournament will be an awards dinner and Tom Cassidy, host pro, will conduct a golf clinic.

The local course will be closed to member play during the match. The course will be available to everyone as spectators, however, and there is no admission charge.

An innovation in local matches is to be provided by local ham radio operators.

A running tabulation of the scores is to be transmitted from the course to a central scoring

Atlanta Records 20-0 Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No one yet is calling the Atlanta Crackers baseball's newest Murderers Row, but the Toronto Maple Leafs must feel they have earned the title.

The Crackers sprang a 20-hit attack on the fading Leafs Thursday while on their way to a 20-0 shutout, the worst shutout drubbing in modern International League history.

Elsewhere Jacksonville defeated Buffalo twice 6-4 and 9-4 while Syracuse downed Columbus 6-1. Rochester and Toledo were not scheduled.

Syracuse scored all six of its runs against rookie Frank Shenlenbach, who had won three straight since being promoted to Columbus from the Southern League.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

Mac's, Pickaway Dairy Trip Mosquito League Opponents

Two new teams in the Mosquito League of the Circleville Youth Baseball program opened their seasons yesterday with losses.

Block's Shoes was handed a 14-2 thumping by Pickaway Dairy. Archers Sporting Goods was edged by Mac's Goodyear, 4-3.

For the Goodyear nine, Kris Kline was the winning hurler, limiting the Archer team to two hits. He walked only four and fanned 15. In addition, he was credited with three RBIs.

WHS Seeking Coach Again

Washington High School is still looking for a head football coach and a staff of grid assistants.

Charles Edward Pratt, 26, of Bowling Green, who was offered a contract last week, has informed the Washington Board of Education that he is going elsewhere.

He had earlier indicated he would accept the WHS grid post.

The South Central Ohio League school is now virtually without a grid staff. Only Rodger Mickle, an elementary instructor who assisted in 1964, remains on the coaching force.

Head coach Dick Anders was relieved of his post earlier this year by the board.

Legion Edges Purina, 2-1

American Legion slipped past Ralston Purina, 2-1, last night in the only Little League major contest scheduled.

Danny Zickafosse was the winning pitcher for the Legion. He went the distance and gave up only two hits.

Leasure started for the Millers. He went three and was relieved by Tod Conrad who suffered the loss.

Mick Chelkowski and Greg Shires scored for the Legion. Jerry Easter had two hits in three trips at bat.

Rod Kassler tallied Purina's only run.

Ohio Man, All-Girl Crew Set To Sail to Islands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A homemade ship with an all-girl crew is providing an Ohio skipper a dream vacation—seven weeks sailing the tropical waters of the Bahamas. Veteran Columbus Police Sgt. Alex Ince and his female family of three are making their cruise on a 32-foot sailboat which they designed and built. Ince is the skipper. The first mate is his wife, Evelyn, who toiled with him over the thousands of hours of planning and building. "Crewmen" are the Ince's freckle-faced teenage daughters, Cathy, 15, and Karen 14.

The Ohio family on this trip? The "Mixed Emotions" (so named because of the varied reactions of people seeing it) is a sloop-rig trimaran. Complementing the main hull are a pair of 21 foot outrigger pontoons which serve to stabilize the craft in choppy water. A 42-foot mast supports the main-sail and the jib, and under full sail with a good wind, the boat will cruise at 15 knots. The craft also has an auxiliary 25-horsepower internally-mounted outboard motor.

The "Mixed Emotions" is five years old. Three years were spent building it and another two years sailing Lake Erie, checking out the boat in preparation for the Caribbean adventure.

The Inces left Columbus last Thursday, towing their ship to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Their plans call for them to be sailing today.

The ship has sleeping facilities for four, a complete galley, sanitary facilities, a refrigerator, marine radio equipment and numerous safety devices. The culinary mainstay will be 175 pounds of dry and frozen food, plus fish they catch and fresh supplies picked up along the route.

Spirited Duels Expected On Trotting Track Card

COLUMBUS — With purse money of more than $20,000 up for grabs, some records may fall tonight and Saturday night at Scioto Downs harness racing track.

A double feature tonight has a $1,000 pace for the seventh race and a $3,000 invitational trot as the eighth.

In the invitational trot, Great Pleasure, owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington C.H., will tangle again with Knotty Pine, owned by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington.

When they met last week, they were upset by Curly Smart's Song Spinner. This week, Smart will be driving Fool's Dandy which has a record of 2:03.5. Great Pleasure has a mark of 2:00 while Knotty Pine was clocked earlier this season at 2:01.4.

Also on the card will be Wampum, Mahlon Nibs and Jayola.

In tonight's co-feature, eight pacers will vie for $1,000. Saturday night's $3500 invitational pace will see another Galvin horse, Paper Boy, starting along the rail. He has a record of 1:59 and will be driven by Dick Buxton. Others entered:

Hal Sampson, 2:00.3; Patti J. Adios, 1:58.3; Kiss In Time, 2:00.3; Mighty GE, 2:01.3; and Smart Money, 1:59.3.

Track officials believe the early morning line nod will be split between Paper Boy, who has won in 2:00.3 this year at Washington Park, and Smart Money because Smart is driving.

The seventh race Saturday night is a $2,000 Preferred Pace and Smart will have Lind's Girl ready to go with her record of 2:04.2. Bill Brown has King Nola in with a mark of 2:00.2. Larry Richard will go with Golden Gift and his mark of 2:00.4.

Ohio Weekend Fishing To Be 'Good'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Good fishing results are reported throughout Ohio's lakes and reservoirs, the Division of Wildlife reports in reviewing fishing conditions.

The fishing outlook by districts:

CENTRAL — The Olentangy River is high but some fish are being taken. Hoover, Delaware and O'Shaughnessy Reservoirs are clear and normal. The Mad River is in fair to good condition with some trout being caught. Kiser, Buckeye, Indian, Madison and Hargus Lakes are all clear and normal and fish of all species are showing up on stringers.

NORTHWESTERN — Most streams are roily and high. Reservoirs and lakes are clear and normal. Among the lakes, here are some of the bright spots: Harrison, Nettle and Oxbow. Bluegills, crappies and bass doing well. These reservoirs are also producing: Fulton, Lima, Fostoria and Findlay.

NORTHEASTERN — The following lakes are in good to excellent condition: Pleasant Hill, Charles Mill, Atwood, Leesvie, Cendering, Tappan, Nimisila, Portage and Springfield. Bass, bluegills, catfish are most numerous with some walleyes, white bass and muskies being caught. Stream fishing here is just fair.

SOUTHEASTERN — Both lakes and streams in this area are fair to good. Some of the better lakes are: Burr Oak, Dow, Piedmont, Hocking, Forked Run, Monroe, Dillon, Seneca, Clouse, Hope, Alma and Veto. Bass and bluegills are most numerous. Some walleyes and white bass are also being captured. Stream fishing here is fair for bass, catfish and some muskies.

SOUTHWESTERN — Fishing is good in the following lakes here: Spring Valley, Rocky Fork Grand Lake-St. Marys, Decker, Acton, Loran, Grant, Stone-lick and Cowan. The best stream fishing is in the following counties: Auglaize, Brown, Clinton, Greene, Mercer, Miami, Shelby and Warren.

LAKE ERIE & SANDUSKY BAY — Good catches of white bass are coming from the Bass Island area. South Bass and Kelleys are especially productive. A few smallmouth and walleyes are also being taken there. Sandusky Bay fishing is good for perch, sheepshead and channel catfish.

Ohio Man, All-Girl Crew Set To Sail To Islands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A homemade ship with an all-girl crew is providing an Ohio skipper a dream vacation—seven weeks sailing the tropical waters of the Bahamas. Veteran Columbus Police Sgt. Alex Ince and his female family of three are making their cruise on a 32-foot sailboat which they designed and built.

Ince is the skipper. The first mate is his wife, Evelyn, who toiled with him over the thousands of hours of planning and building. "Crewmen" are the Ince's, freckle-faced teenagers, daughters, Cathy, 15, and Karen, 14.

the Ohio family on this trip? The "Mixed Emotions" (so named because of the varied reactions of people seeing it) is a sloop-rig trimaran. Complementing the main hull are a pair of 21 foot outrigger pontoons which serve to stabilize the craft in choppy water. A 42-foot mast supports the main-sail and the job, and under full sail with a good wind, the boat will cruise at 15 knots. The craft also has an auxiliary 25-horsepower internally-mounted outboard motor.

The "Mixed Emotions" is five years old. Three years were spent building it and another two years sailing Lake Erie, checking out the boat in preparation for the Caribbean adventure.

The Inces left Columbus last Thursday, towing their ship to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Their plans call for them to be sailing today.

The ship has sleeping facilities for four, a complete galley, sanitary facilities, a refrigerator, marine radio equipment and numerous safety devices. The culinary mainstay will be 175 pounds of dry and frozen food, plus fish they catch and fresh supplies picked up along the route.

Spirited Duels Expected On Trotting Track Card

COLUMBUS — With purse money of more than $20,000 up for grabs, some records may fall tonight and Saturday night at Scioto Downs harness racing track.

A double feature tonight has a $1,000 pace for the seventh race and a $3,000 invitational trot as the eighth.

In the invitational trot, Great Pleasure, owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington C.H., will tangle again with Knotty Pine, owned by Wayne Galvin of Wilmington.

When they met last week, they were upset by Curly Smart's Song Spinner. This week, Smart will be driving Fool's Dandy which has a record of 2:03.5. Great Pleasure has a mark of 2:00 while Knotty Pine was clocked earlier this season at 2:01.4.

Also on the card will be Wampum, Mahlon Nibs and Jayola.

In tonight's co-feature, eight pacers will vie for $1,000.

Saturday night's $3500 invitational pace will see another Galvin horse, Paper Boy, starting along the rail. He has a record of 1:59 and will be driven by Dick Buxton. Others entered:

Hal Sampson, 2:00.3; Patti J. Adios, 1:58.3; Kiss In Time, 2:00.3; Mighty GE, 2:01.3; and Smart Money, 1:59.3.

Track officials believe the early morning line nod will be split between Paper Boy, who has won in 2:00.3 this year at Washington Park, and Smart Money because Smart is driving.

The seventh race Saturday night is a $2,000 Preferred Pace and Smart will have Lind's Girl ready to go with her record of 2:04.2. Bill Brown has King Nola in with a mark of 2:00.2. Larry Richard will go with Golden Gift and his mark of 2:00.4.

Ohio Weekend Fishing To Be 'Good'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Good fishing results are reported throughout Ohio's lakes and reservoirs, the Division of Wildlife reports in reviewing fishing conditions.

The fishing outlook by districts:

CENTRAL — The Olentangy River is high but some fish are being taken. Hoover, Delaware and O'Shaughnessy Reservoirs are clear and normal. The Mad River is in fair to good condition with some trout being caught. Kiser, Buckeye, Indian, Madison and Hargus Lakes are all clear and normal and fish of all species are showing up on stringers.

NORTHWESTERN — Most streams are roily and high. Reservoirs and lakes are clear and normal. Among the lakes, here are some of the bright spots: Harrison, Nettle and Oxbow. Bluegills, crappies and bass doing well. These reservoirs are also producing: Fulton, Lima, Fostoria and Findlay.

NORTHEASTERN — The following lakes are in good to excellent condition: Pleasant Hill, Charles Mill, Atwood, Leesvie, Cendening, Tappan, Nimisila, Portage and Springfield. Bass, bluegills, catfish are most numerous with some walleyes, white bass and muskies being caught. Stream fishing here is just fair.

SOUTHEASTERN — Both lakes and streams in this area are fair to good. Some of the better lakes are: Burr Oak, Dow, Piedmont, Hocking, Forked Run, Monroe, Dillon, Seneca, Clouse, Hope, Alma and Veto. Bass and bluegills are most numerous. Some walleyes and white bass are also being caught. Stream fishing here is fair for bass, catfish and some muskies.

SOUTHWESTERN — Fishing is good in the following lakes here: Spring Valley, Rocky Fork Grand Lake-St. Marys, Decker, Acton, Loraine, Grant, Stonelick and Cowan. The best stream fishing is in the following counties: Auglaize, Brown, Clinton, Greene, Mercer, Miami, Shelby and Warren.

LAKE ERIE & SANDUSKY BAY — Good catches of white bass are coming from the Bass Island area. South Bass and Kelleys are especially productive. A few smallmouth and walleyes are also being taken there. Sandusky Bay fishing is good for perch, sheepshead and channel catfish.

Litterbugs Are Costly To Taxpayers

NEW YORK — This summer's two upcoming long holiday weekends will cost taxpayers a lot of money "down the drain."

"Some $20 million will be spent to humor litterbugs during the Fourth of July and Labor Day holidays," says Allen H. Seed, Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc.

He estimates that it will cost $10 million to clean up rubbish dumped on U.S. streets, highways and recreation areas over each of the two long weekends.

KAB, the national nonprofit organization dedicated to prevention of littering through public education, warns: "Don't celebrate the holidays by littering. Litter costs tax dollars, it also causes accidents, forest fires, and sometimes disease."

Seed explains that long summer holiday weekends bring out record numbers of vacationists, and consequently create peak clean-up jobs.

"Only people can prevent litter," he says. "In this case, people means vacationists."

Body Found in Woods

CINCINNATI (AP) — Homicide officers are investigating the death of a young Negro whose body was found Thursday with a bullet wound in the head. The victim was tentatively identified as Leroy Jennings, 28. The body was found in a wooded area.

OSU GRAD — Dr. Lon E. Cromley, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Cromley of Ashville, was graduated today from the college of veterinary medicine at Ohio State University. He also holds a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from OSU. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity and Alpha Psi professional fraternity. Married to the former Judy Fischer of Ashville, he is the father of a son, Tad Edward. He will practice veterinary medicine with his father.

Ohio Presbyterian Leaders Book Parley

NEW CONCORD Ohio (AP) — More than 500 pastors and lay leaders meet here next week for the four-day annual meeting of the Ohio Synod of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The meeting opens Tuesday afternoon with a worship service in Brown Chapel on the Muskingum College campus. First order of business will be the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Malcolm C. Thompson of Sidney.

Solons Seek Official Song For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio House committee plans a "referendum" by radio to help decide upon a song to be recommended to the Legislature for adoption as the state's official song.

The House Interstate Cooperation Committee, at second hearings on four bills, each proposing a different song as the state's official one, came up with the unusual procedure.

The plan is for the music department at Ohio State University to record the four songs to be played and sung by the same groups under corresponding conditions. The recordings will be distributed to radio stations throughout the state for broadcasting. Listeners will be asked to write in their preference and the results will be compiled and given to the committee.

Songs in the four bills are: "Song of Ohio" by Nell Maynard Cranor; "Ohio Anthem" by Alan Waslohn; "Ohio" by Elizabeth L. Bevington and Jacquelyn T. Kahn, and "Ohio The Honored" by Paul W. Ward and Fayne F. Freshwater.

New Fire Chief Named

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Middletown's new fire chief is Charles A. Hansel, 52. He was named Thursday on the basis of a civil service examination to succeed William Fishbaugh, who retired last April.

Pickaway Grange Report

GRANGE YOUTH

Pickaway County Grange Youth met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler, county deputies, with 22 members present.

Guests were Mrs. Helen Schleich; Mrs. Leora Sayre, pomona lecturer; and Dorsey Bumgarner, pomona master.

The youth group is sponsoring the 5th Annual County-wide Grange Picnic which will be held 1 p. m. July 11, at Tar Hollow State Park. All Grange members are invited to attend.

The County Prince and Princess, who will represent the county in the State Convention in Toledo, will be chosen at the picnic. Any Grange youth may take the quiz for choosing the winners.

The group is mailing handicraft materials to India as part of the Ohio State Grange India Project.

Plans were made for the youth group's booth at the State Fair.

The next meeting will be July 19 in the home of Joyce Boldosier.

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Worthy Master Flem Blair presiding over the business session.

A contribution was made to the 4-H Club project at the fair.

Harold Furniss, youth chairman, announced the grange youth will have their picnic on June 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe of near Washington C. H. and the countywide Pomona Grange picnic will be July 11th at Tar Hollow. This will also feature the prince and princess contest and all youth are urged to attend. John F. Dowler was present for inspection and explained that all granges are to use the same theme for the fair display. "Grange Generates God-Given Greatness. He urged the grange to enter.

The program under the direction of the Community Service committee opened with group singing, "My Country in the World." Mrs. Herman Porter read the different projects we had participated in during the year and members demonstrated the projects.

Clyde Michel gave a reading, "Today" and Bruce Reid played a trombone solo accompanied at the piano by Brenda Reid. A hoop contest was held with six men and six women participating and the men's side won the contest. William Finch read a poem, "The Little Chap Who Thinks the World of Me" and the program closed with group singing, "Now the Day Is Over" and the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reid and Bruce, Mrs. Bertha Porter, C. D. Hosler and Lee Kern.

The meeting opens Tuesday afternoon with a worship service in Brown Chapel on the Muskingum College campus. First order of business will be the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Malcolm C. Thompson of Sidney.

Solons Seek Official Song For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio House committee plans a "referendum" by radio to help decide upon a song to be recommended to the Legislature for adoption as the state's official song.

The House Interstate Cooperation Committee, at second hearings on four bills, each proposing a different song as the state's official one, came up with the unusual procedure.

The plan is for the music department at Ohio State University to record the four songs to be played and sung by the same groups under corresponding conditions. The recordings will be distributed to radio stations throughout the state for broadcasting. Listeners will be asked to write in their preference and the results will be compiled and given to the committee.

Songs in the four bills are: "Song of Ohio" by Nell Maynard Cranor; "Ohio Anthem" by Alan Waslohn; "Ohio" by Elizabeth L. Bevington and Jacquelyn T. Kahn, and "Ohio The Honored" by Paul W. Ward and Fayne F. Freshwater.

New Fire Chief Named

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Middletown's new fire chief is Charles A. Hansel, 52. He was named Thursday on the basis of a civil service examination to succeed William Fishbaugh, who retired last April.

Pickaway Grange Report

GRANGE YOUTH

Pickaway County Grange Youth met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler, county deputies, with 22 members present.

Guests were Mrs. Helen Schleich; Mrs. Leora Sayre, pomona lecturer; and Dorsey Bumgarner, pomona master.

The youth group is sponsoring the 5th Annual County-wide Grange Picnic which will be held 1 p. m. July 11, at Tar Hollow State Park. All Grange members are invited to attend.

The County Prince and Princess, who will represent the county in the State Convention in Toledo, will be chosen at the picnic. Any Grange youth may take the quiz for choosing the winners.

The group is mailing handicraft materials to India as part of the Ohio State Grange India Project.

Plans were made for the youth group's booth at the State Fair.

The next meeting will be July 19 in the home of Joyce Boldosier.

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Worthy Master Flem Blair presiding over the business session.

A contribution was made to the 4-H Club project at the fair. Harold Furniss, youth chairman, announced the grange youth will have their picnic on June 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe of near Washington C. H. and the countywide Pomona Grange picnic will be July 11th at Tar Hollow. This will also feature the prince and princess contest and all youth are urged to attend. John F. Dowler was present for inspection and explained that all granges are to use the same theme for the fair display. "Grange Generates God-Given Greatness. He urged the grange to enter.

The program under the direction of the Community Service committee opened with group singing, "My Country in the World." Mrs. Herman Porter read the different projects we had participated in during the year and members demonstrated the projects.

Clyde Michel gave a reading, "Today" and Bruce Reid played a trombone solo accompanied at the piano by Brenda Reid. A hoop contest was held with six men and six women participating and the men's side won the contest. William Finch read a poem, "The Little Chap Who Thinks the World of Me" and the program closed with group singing, "Now the Day is Over" and the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reid and Bruce, Mrs. Bertha Porter, C. D. Hosler and Lee Kern.
